Ohio Senate Shuns Lausche Appointments

Only 1 Of 28 Names Given Nod; Governor Voices Disappointment

COLUMBUS (AP) — Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche expressed disappointment today over the failure of the Republican-controlled Ohio Legislature to confirm most of his appointments.

The two-day special session of the Legislature wound up late yesterday and Lausche issued this statement today on the Senate's failure to confirm 27 of the 28 appointments that he recommended:

"I am deeply disappointed in the failure of the Senate to confirm the appointments I transmitted to it. Practically all of them are reappointments of members of existing boards and all are able and qualified individuals.

"I have no comment to make on the motives which actuated them not to consider the nominations."

The only appointee to be confirmed was Daniel M. Heekin of Cincinnati to be a member of the State Highway Construction Council.

Some observers saw the failure to confirm other appointees as an attempt to give the next governor a freer hand. Lausche is running for the U. S. Senate next fall against incumbent Republican Sen. George H. Bender.

THE SENATE made quick work of bills before it to protect local governments from financial loss. The bills were passed on the spot after the title of each was read three times. The law makers didn't bother holding committee meetings on the measures which:

1. Restored the court-invalidated tax on the shares of the active capital of financial institutions by wording the bill to overcome the court's objections.

2. Appropriated $12 million from the state treasury to pay local government's tax losses.

3. Increased the tax on shares and active capital of financial institutions from one to five cents for three years. This will cover about $10 million of the $12 million appropriation.

Without objection, the Legislature passed three other bills to remedy special situations. The measures:

1. Removed the limits on municipalities' sale of water to consumers outside their boundaries. This gives the go-ahead to a proposed General Motors Corp. plant in the Warren-Youngstown area.

A five-mile limit on the sale of water outside municipalities had threatened to prevent Niles, Warren or Youngstown from serving the plant.

2. Validated the procedure used in Franklin and 17 other counties for the last eight years in amending county and township zoning plans. A court decision recently knocked out some 400 changes in Franklin County since 1948. The new bill validates all past changes except for those now involved in lawsuits.

3. Corrected a typographical error in the legal description of a canal land tract the Legislature conveyed to the city of St. Bernard, Hamilton County, in 1955.

The Senate asked the Legislative Service Commission to study a proposal to purchase Cedar Point, with the cooperation of the Natural Resources Department, and report back by Nov. 1. A resolution said the General Assembly was "favorably disposed" toward establishment of the resort as a state park.

Russian Reaction To Policy Awaited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russian reaction was awaited today to a U. S. policy approved by President Eisenhower to broaden contacts with Iron Curtain countries.

Eisenhower concurred yesterday in a recommendation of the National Security Council that reciprocal exchanges of "information and ideas," heretofore rejected by Russia, be established between the two countries.

The proposal was first made at Geneva last October by the Western foreign ministers. The administration, meantime, has been debating the extent to which it should be liberal or tough in such matters as exchanging visitors.

Robert Huffer New Head Of Dem Committee

Elected As Chairman Of Executive Body, Succeeding Herrmann

Robert H. Huffer was elected chairman of the Pickaway County Democratic Executive Committee at an organization meeting last night, succeeding Karl J. Herrmann who has held the post for the past eight years.

The new chairman, a son of Roy Huffer of 426 N. Court St., is a native of Circleville and has always had his home here. Earlier this year he was released from the armed services after completing duty with a field artillery unit.

He is a graduate of Ohio State University's law school and has already started his practice here. Herrmann declined an opportunity to continue in the office. He was not a candidate for reasons of health.

OTHER officers elected by the Democratic executive group were: Virgil May, vice-chairman; Ralph Wallace, treasurer; and Mary Fullen, secretary.

A short time ago, Charles W. Morris Jr. of Salt Creek Township was elected chairman of the county's Democratic Central Committee.

His election as chairman of the executive group caught Huffer by surprise. He said he attended the meeting, but the elections were completed before he arrived.

"Nevertheless," he said, "I want to make it clear that I welcome the honor with enthusiasm and will look forward to its high responsibilities."

"It will take me a little time to look around and get a closer view of the organization's working, so that I can give the caliber of leadership the party deserves. I intend to do everything possible to make the functions of the committee more effective."

Single Shot Rocket Goes Up 163 Miles

WHITE SANDS, N. M. (AP) — An Aerobee-Hi rocket blasted 163 miles above the earth yesterday to set a record for a single-stage rocket.

The old record was 158 miles, set in 1954 by a Viking II.

The stratosphere-piercing flight was made as test firings continued in the current series of upper-air probes in the International Geophysical Year program.

The Aerobee-Hi and Viking are among the rockets which get all their power from a single burning cell. Compound, multiple stage rockets employ two or more cells, with one taking over after earlier units have burned out and been dropped to the ground.

Gas Truck Upsets, 10 Buildings Fired

CINCINNATI (AP) — A gasoline truck trailer overturned and exploded here today, setting fire to 10 stores and residences and destroying four parked autos.

One woman died as she was being helped to safety from her burning home and authorities said her death apparently was due either to a heart attack or shock.

The accident and fire occurred near the intersection of Harrison and State Avenues and close to the end of the heavily traveled Western Hills Viaduct.

Approximately 50 persons were routed from their homes as burning gasoline was sprayed over the frame buildings.

Ike Is Handed Foreign Aid Bill Victory

Trouble Still Ahead As House Must Merge Views With Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower could count a substantial victory today in Senate passage of a $4,562,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill but his mutual security program still faces a series of tough congressional hurdles.

Ahead lay compromise of this bill, then House-Senate battles over appropriations. The Senate passed its version of the legislation 54-25 last night and sent it to conference with the House.

The Senate beat down every attempt to put in amendments, including two big across-the-board cuts in the $4,562,000,000 program recommended by its Foreign Relations Committee. Instead, it added $60 million for two special programs. The amount is still about $340 million below Eisenhower's request.

Wary senators stayed in session until 11 p. m. for the second successive night to wind up their voting on the bill, listed by the President as of key importance to the free world alliance against the Communist bloc of nations.

FOES OF FOREIGN aid spending surprisingly abandoned any moves to push for a long series of cuts. In the past they have offered successive amendments for decreasing cuts until they found one that could command a majority.

But it was clear that some senators were reserving their main fire for the appropriations bill which must follow the authorization measure.

The next battle will be in the Senate-House conference on the authorization bill, expected to be held next week. The House version of the measure totaled $3.8 billion.

On final passage, the bill was supported by 27 Democrats and a like number of Republicans. Thirteen Democrats and 12 Republicans voted "no."

The measure was in much deeper trouble with Democrats this time than in recent years.

Some Democrats said the bill placed too much emphasis on continued military aid, too little on technical and economic assistance to meet the new Russian economy.

Others contended the Eisenhower administration had lived off an accumulated backlog of appropriations from the Truman regime and then in this election year had come in with a sharply increased request which was unpalatable to many voters.

The President asked for a $4.9 billion program for the fiscal year which starts Sunday. This compares with $2.7 billion voted in the 1955 session.

As passed by the Senate, the bill carried $600 million more for military aid and about $160 million more for economic assistance than the House version.

Principal Says He Suggested Use Of Paddle

MCCONNELSVILLE (AP) — The principal of nearby Deavertown high school says he suggested to ousted teacher Jack Eberle that he use a paddle on his pupils because "it was practically like recess" in Eberle's room all the time.

Principal Robert Barton testified before the Deavertown school board as hearing resumed last night in Eberle's dismissal from the local high school on charges that he paddled five 15-year-old girl students and taught Bible in class.

"He (Eberle) was clowning pretty much all of the time in all of his classes," Barton said.

The principal had charged the 25-year-old teacher and church pastor with failing to cooperate and failing to maintain discipline in his classes.

Barton testified he repeatedly attempted to advise Eberle on discipline in his classes, and even suggested that Eberle use the paddle on youngsters to maintain order.

Ohio Fuel Gas Rate Hike Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has been ordered to cut its proposed $1,045,000 annual wholesale natural gas rate increase by about $750,000.

In ordering the move, the Federal Power Commission also ordered the company to refund to customers the difference between the rate approved and the proposed rate which it has been collecting since March 1, 1954.

Polish Rioting Continues; U. S. Aides Deplore Setup

Final Try Made To Avert Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Weary negotiators met again today in one final effort to avert a nationwide steel strike at midnight.

Meanwhile, furnaces grew cold as mills braced for the threatened walkout by 650,000 steelworkers. Production slowed toward a halt in an industry that's basic to the nation's economy.

Even if a strike were averted, it might be a month before steel operations return to normal. The banking of fires, now underway, takes about three days. Reheating takes much longer.

Representatives of the United Steelworkers of America and companies producing more than 90 per cent of the nation's steel began talks more than a month ago to forge a new contract. The old one dies at midnight tonight.

The steel companies have insisted on a five-year agreement to succeed the present two-year pact. The union says it cannot bind the steelworkers to so long a contract. The company later cut its demands to four years and four months.

STELWORKERS are "hot, really hot" against acceptance of the industry offer, union president David J. McDonald said.

The Eisenhower administration, meanwhile, took a hands-off attitude toward the negotiations for the moment. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said federal mediation services are "available to the parties if they wish them."

The union has asked for a "substantial" but unspecified wage increase over the present average pay of $2.46 an hour, double pay for Sunday, time and a half pay for Saturdays, a 52-week layoff pay plan, a company paid insurance program and other benefits.

The companies offered a 7.3-cent hourly direct wage increase each year for five years, a 52-week layoff pay program, 4 per cent premium pay for Sundays and various vacation, holiday and other benefits.

Last night top officers of the industry's Big Three—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic—and nine other major firms rejected an invitation to confer personally with McDonald.

They said "no useful purpose" could be served by changing negotiating procedures.

McDonald replied: "The top management has turned down our invitation to meet with them. The responsibility is theirs."

Pay-As-Ride Road Program Nearing Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxes on gasoline and other items for highway users go up tonight at midnight to help finance an immediate start on the nation's pay-as-you-ride road-building program.

Emphasizing speed in getting the $3 billion program underway, a Federal Bureau of Public Roads official predicted:

"We'll be clearing trees, moving dirt and paying out money within 60 days—and certainly before Oct. 1."

The program calls for construction of 41,000 miles of interstate superhighways in the next 13 to 16 years and additional thousands of miles of urban and connecting intrastate roads.

But for the motorist the first noticeable effect will be the tax increase. He will feel it Sunday in an increase of one cent a gallon in the federal gasoline tax. The same boost applies to diesel fuel for trucks.

The present 5 cents a pound tax on tires goes up to 8 cents; retread rubber will be taxed for the first time at 3 cents a pound; the manufacturer's excise tax on trucks, buses and truck-trailers goes up from 8 to 10 per cent; and truckers must pay $1.50 a year per 1,000 pounds for any truck weighing 26,000 pounds or more.

These tax increases, effective until 1972, will yield an estimated $14.8 billion. They will be added to present motor taxes amounting to about $23½ billion for that period to make up a highway trust fund of about $38½ billion for the pay-as-you-go road building project.

Twining Visits Red Air Force Academy

MOSCOW (AP) — Gen. Nathan B. Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff, today visited the Red Air Force Academy at Monino.

Twining was accompanied by aides and a group of British, French and Turkish officers for the trip to the academy about 25 miles from Moscow.

Western reporters were told they could not go along because the academy is in a closed zone.

Adlai, Ave Each Confident He Will Get Democrat Nod

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Adlai Stevenson said in New York yesterday he is "very confident" he will get the Democratic presidential nomination.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said in Chicago he will go into battle at the August convention "with fists flying" to get the nomination for himself.

The two presidential hopefuls invaded each other's territory as Vice President Nixon held a hospital conference with President Eisenhower. Nixon said later Eisenhower has "the old Eisenhower spirit—plenty of bounce."

Harriman, heading into Midwest farm country for the first time since announcing his candidacy, continued his attacks on what he termed the "lopsidedness of Eisenhower prosperity."

On his chances for the nomination, Harriman said "It's a wide open convention. I wouldn't be in the race if I didn't think I could win."

Harriman said he thought there was "very little desire" for a third party in the South. "I think the South will support the Democratic nominee chosen at the convention."

Meanwhile, Republican and Democratic speakers vying for the big Negro vote matched civil rights records at the annual convention.

70 Of Kin Accept Expense-Paid Bid To Attend Nuptials

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — It's going to cost dad a wad of money, but Richard Ulbrich's wedding today will be a real "family affair."

Ulbrich's relatives, 70 of them, are attending the wedding from Wallingford, Conn., and Ulbrich senior is footing the bill—travel expenses, hotel accommodations and all the other incidentals.

Fred Ulbrich, the proud father and owner of the Ulbrich Stainless Steels Co. at Wallingford, issued a blanket invitation to his sisters, brothers and dozens of cousins to attend Richard's wedding to Mary Elizabeth Belfer, daughter of a Jackson merchant. Both are 22.

All 70 relatives accepted. Two chartered railroad cars brought 52 Ulbrich kin yesterday. Eighteen others arrived later by plane.

Reds Bare Lenin Notes On Stalin

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government today published the will of V. I. Lenin in which he called for the expulsion of Stalin as secretary of the Communist party.

The will has been suppressed for 33 years.

Communism, rule book of world communism, published the text of the will which described Stalin as rude, rough-mannered and capricious. In it Lenin said Stalin could not be trusted with a post as responsible as that of secretary.

Publication of the will was the latest step in the official process of degrading Stalin.

Red Premier Pledges To Correct Errors In Satellite Nation

BERLIN (AP) — Travelers said today scattered fighting between armed workers and Polish troops is continuing in Poznan, the Polish industrial city torn by bloody anti-Communist rioting.

As the reports filtered out from behind the Iron Curtain, two American spokesmen deplored the situation, one saying the demonstration was the evil result of communism and the other renewing America's call for granting self-determination within the Red orbit.

Three Western businessmen who arrived in Berlin from Poznan this morning said rifle and machinegun fire and occasional bursts from antiaircraft guns sounded throughout the city during the night.

The men, who refused to be quoted by name, reported isolated groups of armed workers still were battling the troops backed by tanks and jet planes. Poland's Communist government claimed yesterday the revolt had been crushed.

The travelers said they heard reports in Poznan that the embattled workers offered a cease-fire on the condition that all persons arrested in the revolt be released and all troops be withdrawn from the city.

RED PREMIER Josef Cyrankiewicz promised the rebellious workers his regime will correct "mistakes" and raise living standards.

But he blamed the uprising on "imperialist agents" and declared "everyone who raises his hand against the people can be sure it will be hacked off in the interests of the working class."

Berlin was flooded with unconfirmed reports of anti-Communist unrest in other Polish cities and the Baltic states, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia. Telephone operators in Stockholm reported communication with the Baltic states had been cut.

Western embassies in Warsaw reported there were indications the revolt had been planned carefully and the rebels somehow had secured and hidden large stocks of weapons and ammunition.

In Miami, Fla., U. S. Vice President Nixon said today the current uprisings in Communist Poland "eloquently illustrate" the "modern type of colonial imperialism the Communists have imposed."

Nixon re-emphasized U. S. insistence on a "deeds, not words" approach by the Soviets in their

"PAINT BRUSH WITH RECEDING HAIR LINE"

I get a little sore when I look at this Droodle because the paint brush is mine and it was practically new until Dr. Schwine snipped off half of it to make a patch for his mustache. He needed the patch because Dr. Kitzenger had been using him as a Guinea Pig while he was experimenting with a new Sulphuric Acid after-shave lotion. During the past year Dr. Kitzenger has (1) broken three of Dr. S's teeth with his Frozen Fluoride Pizza Pies, (2) fractured his big toe by making him test his non-leakable, cast-iron football, (3) and broken six of his ribs when he lost control of his Electric Corset Lacer. Just goes to show how important a good collaborator can be to a scientist. Provided he's covered by Blue Cross.

protestations of peaceful intentions. The State Department, after lengthy conferences involving Secretary Dulles and other high officials, made this statement:

"THE UNITED STATES government is profoundly shocked to learn of the shooting at Poznan which killed and wounded so many persons. Our sympathy goes out to the families of these people who were merely expressing their profound grievances. They apparently feel that their government primarily serves the interests of the Soviet Union.

"This episode dramatically underlines what President Eisenhower said to the Soviet rules at Geneva—namely, that the peoples of Eastern Europe, many with a long and proud record of national existence, should be given the benefit of our wartime pledge that they should have the right to choose the form of government under which they will live and their sovereign rights should be restored to them."

Choral Group Sings Sunday At Ashville

The public has been invited to choral vespers planned by the Ashville Community Chorus at 8 p. m. Sunday in the Ashville High School auditorium.

Dr. Ellis Snyder of Capital University, a native of this district and widely known as director of the university's great choir, will be guest conductor. The program of religious music will include hymns, anthems and negro spirituals.

It will be the third concert of this type for the community singers, drawn from all over the local area. A number of church choirs are represented in the group.

Choral vespers were offered around this time last year, and a concert was also presented last Christmas.

The Sunday night gathering to hear the chorus is expected to be especially well attended because it comes on the eve of Ashville's traditional Fourth of July celebration. Many former residents of the area have returned for the program.

Letter To The Editor

The Circleville Herald encourages letters to the editor on pertinent subjects of local interest. However, unsigned letters will be disregarded. No more than one will be used if requested.

EDITOR, THE HERALD:
In answer to your request for suggestions of ways to reduce highway accidents I believe the basic three "E's" must be followed, completely and in detail, before the accident rate will be appreciably reduced. These three "E's" are Education, Engineering and Enforcement.

Education should start as soon as a child is able to walk. Staying out of streets and off highways, etc. are the primary teachings. Later, looking both ways before crossing streets, not riding toys where motor vehicles travel, and the like should be taught.

School age children should be taught safety and especially highway safety as a regular subject and early in the grades emphasis should be placed on obeying the rules of the road so that when driving begins breaking speed laws will be regarded correctly as a criminal act rather than "just a lark."

In High Schools, driver training should be a compulsory course for all children, not just a few willing to learn. Following High School the subject should not be dropped, highway safety should be included in Engineering courses, Ethics, etc. in the College curriculum.

In addition if reexamination for drivers licenses were required every three or five years, this procedure could be used to further highway safety education immeasurably.

Engineering for highway safety should not only follow the obvious modern highway engineering practices which every community should vigorously promote, but should include engineering safety into the automobile. Governor Lausche made the point last week when he said car manufacturers should be made responsible for engineering safety in their cars.

Why make a car that will go one hundred and fifty miles an hour? To kill someone quicker? With so many one car, "ran out of road" type accidents it is obvious that cars have reached uncontrollable speeds, perhaps because the driver was aware that he was approaching such a speed.

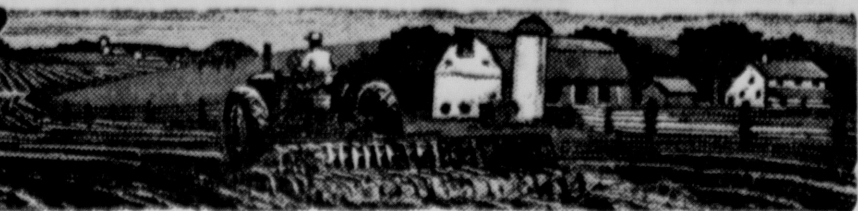

Top speeds of 75-80 m.p.h. will kill someone quickly enough if poorly driven, why exceed that? In recent years safety has been engineered more and more into cars, let include a speed limit.

Enforcement, the third "E", must be complete to be effective. If the punishment for a misdeed is sure and severe, the misdeeds cease. Only by competent and complete enforcement can speed laws be effective. If a person knows that if he is caught the punishment will be severe and that the likelihood of his being caught is great, the person is more likely to resist that impulse to "step on the gas and see what she will do" or "show that guy he can't pass me" or the like.

I suggest that by following an effective and complete program such as touched on above, the deaths and injuries on the highway will be reduced.

FARM NEWS and VIEWS

By R. S. SWENSON, County Agent

The blood sucking fly commonly seen in groups clustered on the backs of cattle are with us again. They cause considerable discomfort to animals and may cause infested animals to lose as much as 15 pound per day during the fly season. Milk production is also reduced.

Cattle can be treated automatically by a back rubbing device which has been treated with an insecticide. An easy method is to use a cable, chain, or 3 strands of barbed wire wrapped in burlap sacks and hang between 2 posts, then treated with an insecticide with an oil base.

For dairy herds the sack should be treated with a 5 percent methoxychlor-oil solution. For beef herds the treatment can be a 5 percent DDT-oil solution. A mixture of 1 quart of a 25 percent imulsion concentrate of either insecticide with 1 gallon of fuel oil will do the trick. Motor oil can be used but it is not recommended due to its higher price. The back rubber should be located near a water trough or other area frequented by the cattle.

There was an overall increase of 131 members in 1956 over 1955, as compared to an increase of 49 new members in 1955 over 1954.

Good Feed
I visited a farm the other day where the problem of rain spoiling first cutting hay was solved in short order. John Schneider, whose farm is located in Walnut Township, decided recently that he wanted to feed some silage.

He hired a bulldozer and within a short time had a trench silo which it is estimated is now filled with approximately 130 tons of high quality legume-grass silage. Mr. Schneider's problem was not, however, as difficult as many farmers of Pickaway County because he has good drainage and a solid footing in the trench silo.

The top soil on the Schneider farm is underlaid with shale and this provided a very good material in which to build a trench silo. John tells me he plans to self feed his dairy cattle.

Combine Adjustment
With the approach of the small grain harvesting season, Pickaway County farmers are reminded to check their combines and have them adjusted properly before they move into the field. Improper cylinder speed, too much or too little air, or operating in extreme heavy straw can cause several bushels per acre to be left on the ground. Proper reel adjustment is also important. Manufacturers instructions should be followed as nearly as possible in combine operation.

4-H Camps
A few 4-H camp reservations have been received at the county extension office. Respective campers are reminded that the 4-H Junior Camp will be held at Tar Hollow from Monday, July 15, to Thursday, July 19.

Ohio Auto Dealer Law Ruled Void

LIMA (AP)—An Ohio law requiring a new car dealer to file with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles a copy of his agreement with an automobile manufacturer has been declared unconstitutional.

Lima Municipal Court Judge Carl M. Blank has upheld a demurrer filed by attorneys for Ora Coates, Lima used car dealer, contending charges against Coates by the bureau were void.

Coates was charged with selling a new automobile and failing to inform the bureau of a manufacturer's agreement. The judge said the law denied Coates the rights which are guaranteed by the Ohio Constitution and the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

County Home To Dedicate Sorority Gift

Altar, Candelabra, Picture Presented By Kappa Alpha

Presented by the Kappa Alpha Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, a new altar, candelabra, cross and religious picture will be dedicated Sunday afternoon at the Pickaway County Home. The ceremonies are set for 2 p. m.

The Rev. John C. Hurst will deliver a brief talk.

Presentation of the religious furnishings is a direct result of the sorority's successful work during last year's Pumpkin Show, at which time the sorority won first place in its competitive division.

Members of the organization voted to use their prize money for a community project, and later selected a proposal to set up the chapel area at the county home.

THE WOODEN altar, hand-carved cross and candelabra were made by Harley Binkley. John Hinrod finished the altar and transported it to the county home, a short distance east of Circleville.

A new American flag will be added to the furnishings by the Pickaway County commissioners. An illuminated picture of the head of Christ, placed above the altar, was purchased by the sorority members.

The Rev. Mr. Hurst conducts church services for the men and women at the home on the first Sunday of each month. The public has been invited to attend the dedication service tomorrow.

Ohio Bishop Says God Now 'Optional'

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Bishop Hazen G. Werner, Methodist bishop of the Ohio area, said here last night God becomes optional in a society where man can do everything himself.

Werner told more than 300 lay and ministerial delegates to the South Central Jurisdictional Conference the average person has acquired a "deceiving complacency because of his confidence in materials and scientific success."

"God," he said, "is no longer the supreme fact of life. We have exchanged the 'pearl of the great prize' for some costume jewelry. We've lost our sense of values and have mistaken success for righteousness and comfort for holiness."

New Legion Head Outlines His Plans

Moon Aims At More Community Teamplay, Aid From Older Men

The newly-elected commander of Circleville's American Legion post said today that he will make special efforts to bring his organization into closer unity with other community organizations, and also urge more World War I veterans to participate in Legion activities here.

In disclosing some of the plans he has in view, post commander-elect Wayne R. (Dick) Moon of 237 1/2 E. Main St. asked for the full support of the Legion's membership during his term in office, which begins next month. Moon will take over the duties now held by Robert Liston of Circleville Route 3.

Moon was elected to serve one year at the helm of Hall-Adkins Post, No. 134. The Legion post held elections Wednesday night.

The new commander and his staff will take over their duties at a formal installation ceremony on July 11. William E. Stoughton, newly elected commander of the American Legion Seventh District, will conduct the program.

MOON noted that his first job will be to appoint the necessary committees to handle the many Legion activities for the coming year. "We will need plenty of co-

Local Youth 6 Others On Long Trips

A Pickaway County youth and six other young people from Ohio left New York City this week en route to a study of farm life in foreign lands.

The district youth, Charles W. Brown, is traveling to Turkey after a delayed departure. Brown is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Brown of near Williamsport.

The seven delegates, going abroad under an International Farm Exchange arrangement, will live and work with farm families until next fall, when they are scheduled to return to the States. In addition to Brown, members of the group are:

Mary Jane Denison of Glenford, going to Finland; Hazel Virginia Eckart of Copley, to France; Harold Leon Merkle of Wren, to Switzerland; Ray Wright Focht of Waynesfield, to Iran; Paul Henry Miller of Sunbury, to Iraq, and Ed Pickering, of Jamestown, to Israel.

H. W. HARSHFIELD, state 4-H club leader, said the Ohio delegates are part of a group of 63 IFYE delegates who left the United States this week to visit rural families in 20 foreign countries.

The IFYE project, sponsored by the National 4-H Club Foundation and the Cooperative Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and land-grant colleges and universities, supports the idea that understanding is the basis of peace. As IFYEs, selected farm youths from the United States take part in home and farm activities in other countries for four to six months, and youth from those countries in turn come to live with American farm families.

A number within the past few years have come for visits with Pickaway County families.

Headstones Available For Vet Graves

Pickaway County Veteran's Service Officer James P. Shea reminded parents, children and other close kin of deceased veterans that they can apply for a government headstone to be placed on a veteran's grave.

The headstone, either of an upright or flat type, can be made of marble or granite. A bronze capping, furnished with anchor bolts for fastening to a foundation, can also be obtained.

Such headstones carry the name of the deceased veteran, his rank and outfit while in the service, date of birth and date of death. The headstones, Shea explained, can very easily be used as foot markers if larger headstones have been used. The flat marble markers are especially suited for this purpose.

The headstones are furnished by the government without cost of any kind to the applicant.

Applications for them can be secured at Shea's office in the basement of the Pickaway County courthouse. His phone number is 351.

SCHOOL'S NOT OUT For Your Newspaper Boy

Sure, he's having fun this summer. He tears around the bases playing softball. He takes off from the diving board into cool water. He's a sunbrowned, healthy, fun-loving kid. But part of his fun comes from serving YOU and his community. And the training he receives as a young businessman goes on all summer.

What does he learn? Responsibility, for one thing. He keeps his own records, saves his own money. His profits increase with the effort he makes as a salesman. He's his own boss. He buys his papers wholesale and sells them retail to make his profit.

He learns the value of conscientious service. He learns how to meet people and to get along with them. Training like this will make his road to success an easier path to travel.

Yes, your newspaper-boy is always learning. All through the sunny vacation days he goes on with his education... learning to serve you and his community and to make himself a finer citizen and a better man.

Day Of Pentecost Sermon Topic At Church Of Christ

"Conversion on Pentecost" is given as the sermon topic for the Church of Christ during the Sunday morning worship.

In commenting on this lesson, Charles Cochran says:

"The day of Pentecost was a great day of significance to the people of the Jews. It was one of their annual feast days and always came upon the first day of the week, our Sunday. The day of Pentecost that we read about in Acts 2 was of special significance because it was on this day that our Lord chose to send the Holy Spirit upon the apostles and establish His church which He had promised in Matt. 16:18.

"A great multitude of people came together to witness these strange happenings and heard the apostles speaking in tongues or languages which they had not studied. The main speaker on this occasion was the apostle Peter, speaking by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. The substance of his sermon consisted of the life of Christ, the death of Christ, the resurrection of Christ, the ascension and exaltation of Christ, and His reign on His throne at God's right hand.

"In the process of his sermon Peter points out to this multitude of people that they are the same ones who took Jesus and 'by wicked hands have crucified and slain' (Acts 2:23). At the conclusion of his sermon many of this multitude were 'pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?' Peter said unto them, 'Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost' (Acts 2:37-38). 'The happy outcome is expressed in the statement: 'Then they that gladly received the word were baptized; and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls' (verse 41)."

The pastor will present a communion meditation on the theme "The Power of Weak Words," continuing the series of three sermons on the Fourth Gospel, John. The text is found in the fourth chapter, verses 1-18.

In the choir, Don Meyers will sing Malotte's "The Lord's Prayer". Mrs. Theodore L. Huston will present an organ prelude, "Communion", which was composed by the organist of the Cathedral in Luxembourg, Benoit; also, a "Pastorale" and Mozart's "Ave Verum".

An hour of Bible study, beginning at 9:30 a. m., precedes the worship, emphasizing the practical application of Christian Faith to Christian Living in every aspect of our modern life. This is the emphasis throughout all age groups.

TV Students Get Better Grades

CINCINNATI — Dr. George W. Kisker, associate professor of psychology at the University of Cincinnati, says persons who took his courses via television made better grades than those on the campus. He based his opinion on the examinations of 50 students from each class.

Dr. Kisker said his first opinion was that TV students were the smarter. Intelligence tests, however, showed the video scholars to have less brain power on the average than the campus students, he added.

THE LAND OF THE FREE

One of the first landmarks the European traveler sees as he approaches this country is Bartholdi's famous Statue of Liberty.

The artist here has deftly drawn a broken chain across the background of freedom's holy light, signifying that oppression and human slavery cannot exist in a land of free people.

But freedom involves much more than an unshackled body and the possession of civil and political rights. One may possess all these and still be a slave to his own weaknesses.

True freedom encompasses the mind and soul of man as well as his body and his political relations. Men are enslaved by vicious habits, by their ignorance, prejudice, selfishness and hate.

Religion is the mother of freedom, and the Church has been its chief and most constant exponent. Jesus said, "The truth shall make you free," and the truth is embodied in the Holy Scriptures.

No chains can fetter the soul of the man who dwells in the light of God's freedom.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SURPLUSES TO REDS?

MIDWESTERNERS who have strongly opposed trade with the communists may soon be caught on the horns of a dilemma. Secretary of State Dulles in a closed session of the House Agriculture Committee is reported to have urged Congress to remove the ban on selling and bartering surplus farm products to iron curtain countries.

Secretary Dulles is reported to have said that there are opportunities for disposal of surplus commodities to satellite countries, such as Poland and Czechoslovakia. Government officials say they could double the volume of government-owned farm surpluses which could be sold abroad for foreign currencies, now $1.5 billion annually.

Many Midwesterners have repeatedly urged the government to get rid of those surpluses somehow, preferably by selling them abroad. At the same time they have protested every lowering of the trade barriers between East and West. The chance to cut another $1.5 billion out of that $8 billion stockpile may be too good to pass up. Yet food is certainly a way of strengthening the enemy's hand.

Russia's agricultural difficulties are providing the "empty bins" into which America's surpluses could be stuffed. This floundering part of her economy is considered a major military weakness. It will be interesting to note farm belt reaction to this latest surplus disposal possibility.

A BLOW TO FREEDOM

TURKEY IS IN trouble because of production shortages and inflation. Popular irritations have been expressed by the press through severe criticisms of the government headed by Premier Menderes.

The government is striking back by pushing a press censorship bill through the nation's parliamentary body. Newspapers criticizing the Menderes government would be fined $3,600 and face jail sentences of three years for publishing anything the government considers derogatory. Newsboys would be forbidden to cry any anti-government news. An offending newspaper could be shut down for three months.

If the law is adopted and can be enforced, Turkey will be as much a totalitarian nation as any Communist power so far as freedom of discussion is concerned. That would be embarrassing to the United States which has taken Turkey under its wing. The anti-communist world has freedom to sell more than anything else. When parts of that world go against freedom, it is a black eye for all.

A PEOPLE'S WELCOME

THE MORE American visitors penetrate the iron curtain to tour Russia the more two things become obvious.

1. The astonishing ignorance that the average Russian has of the ordinary facts of life in the Western world, and his curiosity to learn more.

2. The amazing friendship shown Westerners by the common people of Russia. All the years of vilification and untruths spread about this country by the red leaders does not seem to have turned the Russian people to hatred.

One recent tourist to Russia says, "The Russians would reach to touch you, your clothes. And they were always trying to give us things—pins, flowers, whatever they had."

That these people should have such misconceptions—deliberately fed them by their rulers—and yet remain friendly is certainly one of the most curious, and yet strangely hopeful, developments in this depressing world.

The season when many doubt that insects comprise only four-fifths of the animal kingdom is again here.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Ike's ileum has become quite a thing for doctors who are forbidden by their ethics to advertise but some of whom grab at a straw of publicity like a Hollywood starlet on the way up. Ike's ileum gives everybody a chance who can claim familiarity with the organ.

I saw a piece about a doctor in Boston who never saw Ike's ileum or for that matter Ike in bed, but he profoundly announces that those doctors who were standing over the President's torso when he was opened up and who cut into his flesh and who decided whether the diseased organ was to be clipped off or by-passed did not know what they were talking about, although he says it more politely.

The Boston medico probably used radar or phrenology or faith healing or something so that he could see more of Ike's insides sitting in Boston than any other doctor could know whose fingers were touching Ike's ileum. For that the Boston guy should get a Nobel prize.

I mention no names, for far be it from me to violate the canon of anonymity which is basic with the medical profession. Perhaps some doctors are a bit irked that they were not invited to cut into the President, that being worth a great deal in the way of having the name advertised and pictures in the newspapers.

However, it sometimes works the other way. When I was in the hospital with my own coronary, my family doctor did not call Ike's great heart specialist but another man who made me no guarantees. Ike's great man came to my hospital to see another fellow who was down with the same thing and who sent me a baked apple for which I thank him. But no one thought of getting Ike's specialist to look at me because he favored everybody riding a bicycle and I do not own a bicycle.

Maybe, if my ileum goes bad in imitation of Ike's, there will be a fight among the doctors as to which one is to be called in to clip it out. I favor the fellow who told all and sundry that he has already done about 700. He did not say how many lived afterwards and for how long, but he did say that it is not a too severe operation.

Maybe that is because he is a good clipper, like a barber I know of who makes the hair fit the face in the same way that women get a hair-do. I have never been to this barber because my face is not my fortune. But this can be said: competent clippers are rare and worth their pay, no matter what they cut.

It would be well for all concerned if Ike would stop having these fancy illnesses, so the doctors could subside and not be required to pontificate on how soon he will get well, how long he will live, whether he will get it again or not, and what brought it on in the first place.

Undoubtedly, it was food and those of us who lived in Asia are not famed for abstemious or sensible eating. Ike undoubtedly had all kinds of dysenteries in the Philippines as I did in China. It comes from eating raw food, which Americans like very much but which do not run true to form in some countries because of the things they use for fertilizers.

I am telling this to the quarrelling doctors because maybe nobody has ever told them what can happen to lettuce or water-melons or even scallions in some places.

Also in the Asiatic countries one eats too much. General MacArthur seems to have missed many of these troubles, but he is a man with an iron will who probably always avoided the wrong foods. Also, there are some folks who really do not care, and if they are told not to eat raw fruit, they do not eat raw fruit. Then again, there are others who do what they like and take their chances. A friend of mine died of cholera that way.

This knowledge, I impart to the experts free of charge so that they can know what might have happened to Ike before they started to cure him by remote operations. Meanwhile, they are advised to keep their names out of the accounts. It is against their trade union rules.

CHAPTER 19

PRISCILLA sparkled at the dance. Not as Peggy sparkled—Priscilla was not as exuberant and effervescent—but it was a quiet sparkle that drew attention. More than one guest asked the identity of the attractive girl in the flame-colored velvet, with the page-boy haircut.

Dancing with Dick, Priscilla thought, this is more fun than anything I've ever done in my life. I simply can't believe that I'm in this strange, faraway place, on a private yacht, dancing with the first man I could ever be in love with. "What did you say, Dick?"

The young doctor's arms tightened a little. "Come back from wherever you are. I'm still here. I said you certainly can dance. And you're—sweet. I like you, Priscilla."

Priscilla's heart did a cartwheel, but steadied as suddenly. "I like you too, Doctor," she said, smiling up at him.

"How often may I tell you that?" "Let's leave it. I mean that we like each other. I mean—I mean—" She stopped, confused, as his arms tightened still more and she met his eyes.

"You mean I'm not to make pretty speeches? Not try to make love to you, even if there is a moon and we're in such a romantic setting?"

"Well," Priscilla's voice was light, "if you want to waste your time like that. . . . But I'm not very susceptible to pretty speeches. Flatterations have always seemed a little pointless to me. Let's keep it on a friendly basis."

"O.K. But I mean it. I do think you're sweet."

"Thanks. You're very flattering. . . . Here's Pete breaking. That gives you a chance to break on the fellow who just took Peggy away from him."

After a moment, Pete said, "Gai, you sure can dance! And did you know everybody's asking about you?"

Priscilla laughed lightly, deprecatingly. "Know yet how long you're going to stay?"

"Only a few days longer." "That's too bad." They danced silently for a few moments, then

Pete said, "Like Dick?" "Lots," Priscilla admitted frankly. "I thought so. Maybe you like him enough to want to hear that it's mutual."

"You're imagining that." "I'm not. He said so himself. And then, I can tell. Want to do something for me?"

A little surprised, Priscilla said, "Of course. If I can." "Are you good at pretending?" "Never tried."

Another moment of silence. Then, "I suppose you know I'm in love with Peggy." "Who doesn't?" Priscilla said lightly.

"Peggy's used to me, always had me tagging around after her. Funny thing—she broke off, laughing, and after a moment continued, 'When she was little, she tagged me all the time, got in my hair something awful. Now it's the other way around. I'm tagging her. Everything was going along all right until Doc came here a couple of years ago and started rushing her. I'm not blaming him, of course. But, you see,' the lightness went out of his voice, 'I think Peggy is really in love with me and doesn't realize it. If she thought I was interested in someone else, it might shock her into awareness.'"

"I see." There was laughter in Priscilla's eyes. "You mean you want to rush me, pretend you're falling in love with me, to make her jealous?"

"Something like that. And I can say it will be fun, too."

"O.K.," Priscilla agreed contentedly. "That will be my good deed. But just what do I do?" "Let me see you often. Act as if you're interested. Let me dance with you often tonight and I'll break on anyone else who does. . . . Peggy is watching us now. Mind if I hold you a little tighter?"

Dick, dancing with Peggy, said, "Maybe here's where I lose my rival. Pete seems to be quite enamored."

"Not jealous, are you?" "You mean because he's so attentive to Priscilla? What do you think?"

"But you do find her attractive?" "And then some," Dick said.

and did not realize the degree of enthusiasm in his voice. "Don't tell me I'm going to lose you both at the same time." "Would you care?"

Not at all disturbed, Peggy said, "Well, I could survive it, I suppose."

"Which one of us would you rather lose?" Peggy raised her eyes, smiled sweetly and said, "Oh, I must say Pete to you. If Pete asked the same question, I'd have to say you."

"An incorrigible flirt. Someday, Peggy, you're going to have to grow up. Has it occurred to you that we both might get tired of the uncertainty and turn our attentions elsewhere?"

"Run along when you want to." But Peggy said it, she snuggled a little closer in Dick's arms, and it was as if she said, "But I don't think you will."

Peggy would have had the shock of her life had she known that Dick, his eyes following Pete and Priscilla, had not even realized that she had moved closer, that he was thinking about Priscilla.

She's sweet and natural, he was thinking. There's absolutely no pretense about her. Pete is looking at her as if he could just about eat her. He was realizing that he didn't like it. He didn't like it at all. What business had Pete to look at Priscilla like that? Or to hold her that way?

Rita, dancing with one of the town's prominent citizens and answering questions politely, was thinking, Why does Bill wander around so much? Why doesn't he dance? He seems to be watching me, but every time I catch his eye he turns away. He was all ears when I was trying out what little Spanish I know on Alvarez. Does he actually think I'm in some sort of intrigue with the man? How ridiculous! I don't think Alvarez is anything but what he appears to be—a wealthy sportsman. If he wants a hotel here, it's probably the gamble of it that appeals to him. And he knows the fishing is good and that lots of people come here. I'm going to tell Priscilla definitely tomorrow that I think she should let him have Lookout House.

Three New Drugs To Fight Disease

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A VARIETY of new drugs and techniques have made medical advances includes an antibiotic for treatment of acne, synthesis of a new class of antibiotic agents, a mental and physical stimulant and a new development in the long search for a cure for leukemia.

Our monthly review of these advances includes an antibiotic for treatment of acne, synthesis of a new class of antibiotic agents, a mental and physical stimulant and a new development in the long search for a cure for leukemia.

Young Adults The antibiotic polycycline has been used by Syracuse University scientists for successfully treating acne, a skin condition that afflicts countless teen-agers and young adults.

The results, the scientists report, indicate that the antibiotic exerts more than a germ-killing action since acne is not merely a simple bacterial infection but also involves hormonal imbalance within the body.

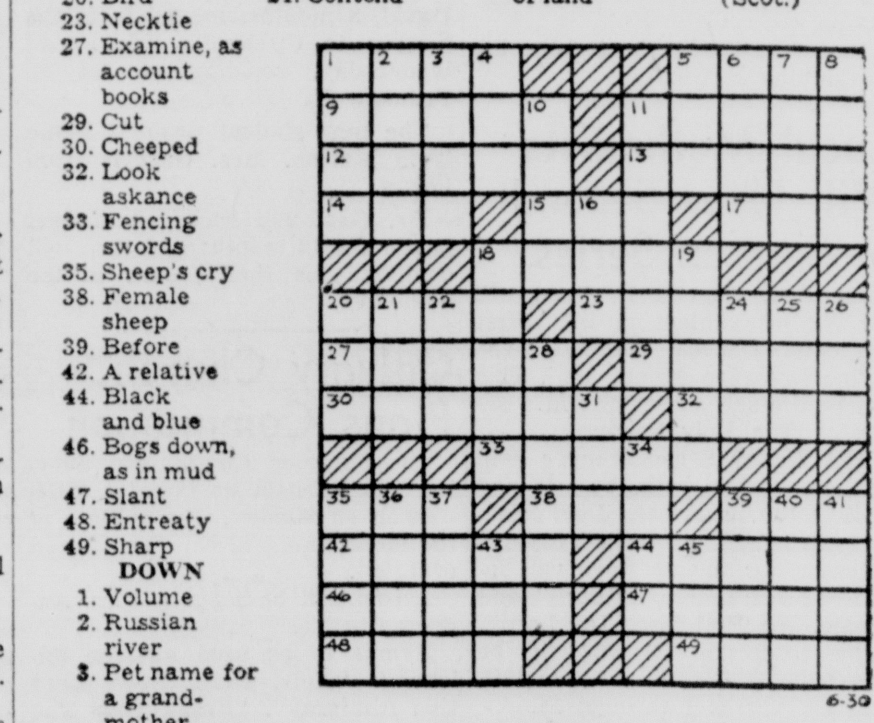

Polycycline is known chemically as tetracycline.

Specific Target The newly synthesized antibiotic agents are related to tetracycline, but pinpoint a specific microbial target. The new drugs are known as tertiary butyl-anhydrotetracycline analogs.

They are reportedly up to 200 times as effective as either tetracycline or Terramycin in the test-tube battle against trichomoniasis, a disease affecting some 10 per cent of the nation's women. No results in humans have been reported.

Household Hints

Add salt to the water when you are cooking cabbage; it improves the color and flavor and helps to retain Vitamin C.

Ever add ground cooked ham to mashed potatoes for croquettes?

To test whether a syrup is at the hard-crack stage, drop half a teaspoon of it in cold water. If the syrup separates into hard brittle threads it's at the specified stage.

LUNCHEON CLUB DO'S

Here Are some Tips to Aid You In Making Organization Livelier

By GEORGE C. DWORSHAK
Written for Central Press
and This Newspaper

IS YOUR luncheon club lively, with a varying activity pattern? At your board meeting and district conferences, do you have brain-storming sessions to bring forth new ideas, just as factory foremen and sales managers are urged to have a questioning manner so that better methods and more sales can be achieved?

Idea such as the following can help your club achieve a functional rejuvenation that will make membership as exciting as it was for those who pioneered the organization. Many of these ideas have been tried by the writer, and the reactions they won prompts the sharing of them with you. Try a few of these:

1—Have a guest-of-the-week—someone deserving friendly recognition for a fine task just completed or for long devotion to a cause. In three to five minutes, it can be told what he has done, and he can take a bow.

2—Invite the musically-minded members to write parodies that make jovial references to the members.

3—Ask one of your writers to note bits of chatter during the meal that can be used without offense in the weekly bulletin. This material will give some conversational starting points at the next meeting.

4—Make lighter luncheons available for those who dislike a heavy meal at noon because it makes them drowsy and uncomfortable the rest of the day.

5—Install a public address system so that long-playing records can be used for background music during the meal.

6—Air-condition your meeting place.

7—Bring a member to his feet for a couple minutes, to tell something about his work or a humorous incident. If the latter is done, have an applause meter that will record the audience reaction for eight to 12 weeks so that an award can be made to the best laugh-getter.

8—If the speaker has come some distance, pay his expenses rather than let the club accumulate the money and eventually give some local cause a large check.

9—Make sure that issues affecting the members individually are brought to them for their decisions in democratic fashion, in keeping with the weekly pledge before the national flag. The authority of leadership in a factory might be different than that in a community organization.

10—In the post-meeting news stories, spotlight the speaker's most dynamic thoughts so other folk in the community may share them and grow, too.

11—Have a hidden mike at a table to pick up meal time conversation, so that a few minutes of it can be played back for a jovial interlude.

12—Use a biographical brief on a new member in your weekly bulletin; it will accelerate his really becoming one of the group.

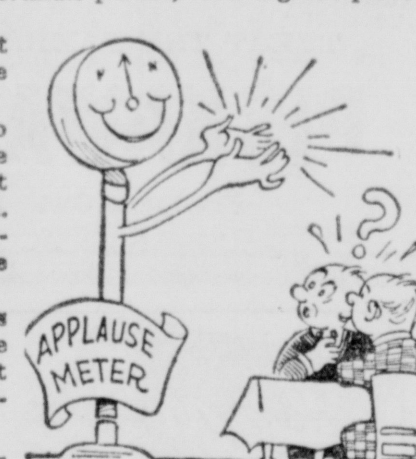

13—Drop a club project that has reached the saturation point.

14—Invite the national president, some member who has moved to another community, or a leader of some remote club to send a five-minute taped message to your group.

15—Have different members preside; it's good for them and will reveal potential presidents.

16—At the end of the year, have the president tape a brief comment on the year's events (50 to 55 typed lines make five minutes' speaking) for use, along with those of his successor, some years later.

17—Really make sure the speaker knows how long he is to talk; beg him to avoid the bromidic phrase, "It's a great pleasure to be here"; urge him to use considerable humor, for that helps win close attention for the serious thoughts he would register; provide a rostrum if he wishes it for convenience or peace of mind.

18—Have an instructional session on parliamentary procedure for the club's officers, or at the district conference.

19—Analyze the psychology of your club's gifts to the community—do they stimulate the initiative of individuals, or do they encourage a paternalistic pattern?

amount equal to the sum by which your benefit was reduced. This, of course, applies only to the veteran with no dependents.

Q—I have had my service-connected compensation reduced from 30 percent to 10 percent. I do not feel that the VA is right in this reduction. I wish to file an appeal. Will you help me?

A—My advice is to be very cautious about filing an appeal—in fact, I would advise against it. An adverse decision from the Board of Veterans Appeals is very difficult to overcome. The percentage of successful appeals is only about 6 to 8 percent.

If you feel that the VA is in error in reducing your compensation, my suggestion is to secure medical evidence describing in detail the present condition of your disability. Also, employment records would be helpful, if they show absence due to your disability. Statements from neighbors and friends may also be valuable.

Let us gather all the evidence we can, to prove that your disability is not any better, then reopen your claim and have it reviewed.

Only, as a very last resort, is it wise to file an appeal. There is a lot we can do before we must come to that resort.

Q—I have a service-connected disability of diabetes and have been receiving compensation for several years. My condition has become worse, one of my legs is now so gangrenous it must be amputated. Can service-connection and compensation be granted for the amputation?

A—Yes, it seems entirely likely that service-connection can be granted for the amputation. Any condition which is secondary to or caused by a service-connected disability may also be service-connected.

IT'S the LAW

This is the second article of a series prepared by the Pickaway County Bar Association and printed as a public service by The Herald. The articles are not intended to answer individual legal problems, which often involve factors not included in the mythical example.

You Can't Always Collect Damages After a Tumble.

Mrs. Adams was much impressed by the usual spic and span appearance of the Browns' home when she arrived to play bridge. Before the opportunity arose to compliment the hostess on her housekeeping, however, Mrs. Adams stepped on a small throw rug which slipped on the highly polished floor, depositing her beside it with a painful injury.

Mrs. Adams' attitude toward the virtues of a polished floor changed abruptly and she paid her next visit to her lawyer to institute suit against Mrs. Brown.

She was advised that her chances of recovery were slim, as a hostess owes no duty to protect a social guest against such an open and normal risk.

Mrs. Adams was neither pleased or impressed by this statement. She felt that just couldn't be right. She explained the case to her dear friend, Mrs. Carr, who had slipped in the same accidental manner on a highly polished floor in a department store and who had been reimbursed for all her expenses. If the department store had to pay for Mrs. Carr's injuries why shouldn't Mrs. Adams be compensated? After all, she had come to visit at Mrs. Brown's express invitation.

THE LAWYER'S answer went something like this: Courts of Ohio realize that people go on property of others for various purposes and that their entry may arouse various degrees of approval or disapproval in the owner. Therefore, several legal categories have been set up to describe these persons and the rights and duties of both the enterer and owner vary according to the status of such enterer.

First, there are trespassers who enter without permission and to whom no duty or care is owed, except not wilfully or wantonly injure them. A wanton injury may arise out of an entire absence of care in the safety of the injured trespasser of his peril when he is discovered in a dangerous position would be considered wanton misconduct.

The next classification, licensees, includes persons who go on the premises of others for their own pleasure or convenience but with the implied or express consent of the owner. Substantially, the same duty of care is owed licensees as trespassers although since the owner may know that the licensee is coming on the property he has greater opportunity to anticipate perils and to guard against them.

Ohio Farm Bureau Program Planned

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Farm Bureau county presidents will present a 16-point program, termed "the beginning of Farm Bureau policy development for 1957," to the annual Farm Bureau convention here in November.

Some 55 county presidents attended a meeting here yesterday to outline the program to be considered by the November convention. High on the discussion list was how to improve farm income.

However, there is no obligation to maintain an active vigil to protect such persons except against hidden dangers or obstructions created by the owner. Firemen and police officers fall into this category, since they are held to enter the premises in the performance of their duty.

The third class is that of social guests, into which Mrs. Adams falls (or slips). The social guest enters the property at the request of the host, but not for his financial benefit. He is assumed to have temporarily the status of a member of the family as regards the security that must be given him.

The host is not liable for personal injuries sustained by ordinary negligence in the care of the home. Of course, care must be taken to warn the guests of any condition in the property of which he is not aware but which is known to the host and which a reasonable person would consider dangerous.

MRS. BROWN'S highly polished floor may not have represented the ultimate in safety but it was not a hidden danger, nor did it demonstrate negligence on Mrs. Brown's part. Polished floors were normal in Mrs. Brown's home just as toys in the back hall or on the stairs may be in other homes, and the guest who is told to consider himself one of the family had better be as nimble as they.

The final category is that of invitee which generally covers business visitors. Mrs. Adams' friend who recovered from her fall was a business visitor. The store manager "invited" her to enter in the hopes that she would purchase something and gave her reason to believe that she would be safe from accidental injury.

The courts have held businesses to a higher standard of care toward their customers, prospective and otherwise, by requiring that they exercise ordinary care to protect such persons against injury while on their premises. This does not mean that stores are insurers against all accidents or injuries but that they must exercise that degree of care that a reasonable and prudent person is accustomed to exercise under the same or similar circumstances.

A slippery floor in the home may not permit a social guest to recover, but in a business establishment the situation may be otherwise. Of course, a somewhat higher standard of care is due business visitors in the home than social guests, although the visitor should realize that the same precautionary measures will not be taken as in a business establishment and therefore must "watch his step" more closely. Mailmen and employees of public utility companies as well as salesmen often fall into the category of business visitors who enter the home.

This Is What District Vets Want To Know

Veterans who have a question of interest to ex-servicemen should pass it along to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer Jim Shea. His offices are in the basement of the courthouse at Circleville.

Q—I am in need of a hernia operation. I was in the service from 1933 through 1939, and was honorably discharged. Can I go to a VA hospital for this operation?

A—As a peace-time veteran, you can be treated in a VA hospital for a service-connected disability only. There is no way in which we can help you to get into a VA hospital. Had you been in service during war-time, it is possible that the VA would allow you in a hospital for the operation.

Q—I have been admitted to the VA Hospital in Dayton, for domiciliary care. I am receiving a total non-service-connected pension and have no wife or children. Will my monthly check be reduced because of this?

A—If you are under VA domiciliary care for a period in excess of six months, any benefit you receive, if less than $30 a month, continues without reduction. If your benefit is greater than $30 per month, it will be reduced 50 percent of the amount otherwise payable or $30 a month, whichever is greater.

Fiscal 1957 Foreign Aid May Cost Individuals $23.85 Each

Chamber Head For Ohio Lists County Figures

State-Wide Average Estimated At $33.34 By Harry Arnold

Few Pickaway Countians realize how much the proposed foreign aid program for the 1957 fiscal year could cost them individually.

According to Harry W. Arnold, president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, the more than $4½ billion program would cost each resident of Pickaway County $23.85. The total cost to all taxpayers in the county would amount to $737,000, Arnold pointed out in a recent report.

The state-wide average for Ohio would be $33.34, Arnold reported, or $133.36 for a family of four persons. Estimated total cost for the state is set at nearly $292½ million, according to Arnold.

Arnold has urged members of the Ohio delegation to Congress, through the Ohio C of C organization, to support a cut of more than $1 billion made by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Arnold pointed out that "even with the reduction, more than $10½ billion is already available in unspent foreign aid funds beginning July 1 for the 1956-57 fiscal year."

OHIO'S ESTIMATED share of foreign aid for fiscal 1957 is one and one-fifth times the total expenditures of 139 Ohio cities in 1954, exclusive of public service enterprises, according to the state C of C group. The organization also pointed out that this amount is sufficient to construct 14,625 classrooms, which could accommodate approximately 438,750 students.

The entire U. S. foreign aid program since its start in 1945 to 1956 has cost taxpayers of the United States more than $51¼ billion. This amounts to a cost of $369.23 for every Ohio citizen, or $1,476.92 for a family of four.

Cost to the taxpayers of Pickaway County is estimated by the Ohio Chamber at $8,164,000 or $264.21 for each resident of the county.

By comparison of expenditures within the State, Ohio's estimated share of nearly $3¼ billion in total foreign aid expenditures would operate Ohio schools for nearly seven years at the 1954-1955 level of spending. During the 1954-1955 school year, Ohio schools spent $468,227,740 for current operation, interest payments, debt retirement, and miscellaneous.

From another viewpoint, Ohio's share is two and one-fifth times the total taxes collected in Ohio at the State and local levels during the 1954-1955 fiscal year.

If the $1,109,000,000 reduction in the proposed 1957 fiscal year program as slashed by the House Foreign Affairs Committee is retained by Congress, savings to Ohio taxpayers would amount to $6,423,400. Taxpayers of Pickaway County would be saved an estimated $174.97.

DICTATED BY THE DECEASED

Late James Mays Insisted On Getting Credit for His Tombstone's Wording

The Mays tombstone with its odd inscription.

By KENNETH HEWINS

Central Press Association Correspondent

RUSTON, La.—This is likely to come under the heading of graveyard talk.

It's a story about an inscription engraved on a stone slab covering a grave in the cemetery at Vienna, La., a small community about five miles north of Ruston, on U. S. Highway 167. This is the wording on the stone:

"James H. Mays, Born in Lincoln County, Georgia, November 17, 1821. Died in Ruston, Louisiana, August 9, 1911. Born Spiritually October 18, 1839, Under No Eyes Save the Lord's and My Horse's. Joined the Methodist Church on September 1, 1859, and Feel That I Have Been an Unworthy Member Since, But Hope to Join the Redeemed Above in the First Resurrection."

That is not all. Across the bottom of the message, in parentheses, is this credit line:

"(Dictated by the Deceased)."

That is a little unusual, to say the least, I think.

Whether this story ever has been printed in a newspaper before, I honestly do not know. What I do know is this:

For more than a quarter of a century I have been residing within seven miles of the Vienna cemetery and I have just now seen the gravestone with the distinctive inscriptions. I was escorted to the cemetery by a man who has lived in Ruston for more than 50 years and he had only recently learned of the grave marking.

The grave is near the highway. To reach the spot one needs to take but 30 steps in a left oblique direction from the cemetery gateway.

The visitor will come upon two graves, side by side, each covered with slabs supported by brick work about 10 inches high. The grave on the left, as one approaches, is the burial place of James H. Mays.

There is no headstone for either of these two graves. A distinguishing characteristic of the Mays' marker is an engraving-embossing of a man's right hand, with the forefinger pointing upward.

It is recommended that the visitor go into the graveyard in broad daylight; for the wording on the slab is relatively small and the weathering processes have darkened the stone, making the inscriptions difficult to be read.

That's about it. This story may not be exclusive. However, the wording on the gravestone probably is exclusive in cemetery circles. I am almost dead sure of that.

Roundtown Retrospect

By Mac Noggle

Maybe you are like some more of us—your cooking prowess rests with the task of putting on the teakettle for the breakfast coffee. Anyway—don't you like to read about the old-fashioned dishes which were prepared by your folks?

Look over some of these—maybe they'll bring back some happy memories.

Naturally, your most comprehensive recollections have to do with the desserts and some of the nicknacks. In the cake line, those now seldom heard of are—the Buckeye cake, pound cake, delicate cake, social cake, watermelon cake, citron cake, French bunn, Liverpool cake, ambrosia cake, railroad cake, Erie coffee-cake, sponge gingerbread, Geneva's sponge cake, dried apple fruitcake and the old standby—bread cake.

Now in the cookie line—these have disappeared from most of our cookbooks. There were the sand tarts, ginger-nuts, German crack-cakes, Aunt Betsy's cookies, Canada cookies, Savoy cakes, Shrewsbury cakes, Queen doughnuts, chocolate jumbles, Madeleines and caraway cookies.

BESIDES the many kinds of fruit pies like we have today, in those days they also had hasty pumpkin pie, mock apple, apple Jonathan, Irish potato pie and mock mince pies. Believe it or not, many kinds of pies were once fried in deep fat at 350 to 375 degrees.

You ask—how could grandma know when her grease was the proper temperature, without a thermometer? That was easy for her—she dropped a one-inch cube of bread into the hot grease and if it browned in one minute, the temperature was just right.

There were many kinds of puddings, such as apple pan dowdy, Troy pudding, poverty pudding, Fuller pudding, Dorrit pudding, baked or boiled Indian pudding—both of these were made of cornmeal, Florentine pudding, valise pudding—a fold-over job, wapsie pudding, sponge pudding, seven-cent pudding, Eve's pudding—made with apples and wine, and Topsy Charlotte—a preparation, loaded with Sherry wine.

Then too, there were many kinds of custards and creams like Float, apple coddle, apple omelet, Indian custard, wine cream and the Russian and the Spanish creams.

Besides all the jellies and jams, we find that they made ketchup—time in the kitchen, fooling around with some new-fangled messes to try out on him. He wasn't too happy about it, so he prefixed the name "Anna-dam-er" to one of her creations.

Of the thousands of old-time recipes one can find, we believe the most famous one and certainly unique, is that of the "Bible Cake." Yes — your Bible must be your cook-book. What it will do for you to try out the recipe can be found in the 23d. Verse of the 14th. Chapter of Proverbs and as to what it tastes like can be found in the 9th. Verse of the 9th. Chapter of 2d. Chronicles.

Now you are ready for the ingredients. Use 1½ cups of Judges 5th. Chapter and the 25th. Verse; add 2 cups of the 6th. Chapter, 20th. Verse of Jeremiah; then 4½ cups of the 22d. Verse of the 4th. Chapter of Kings 1; 2 cups of 1st. Samuel, 12th. Verse of the 30th. Chapter; 2 cups of the 12th. Verse of the 3d. Chapter of Nahum; 1 cup of Numbers, 8th. Verse, of the 17th. ## Judge Sympathizes With Man Trying To Help Out Kids

AKRON (P)—For giving free haircuts to kids a 50-year-old furniture upholsterer paid a $10 fine here.

But in handing out the penalty Municipal Judge William H. Victor sympathized with the upholsterer and registered a mild complaint against Akron's $1.75 rate for a legal clip.

The upholsterer Raymond D. Paxton had been cutting the hair of scores of neighborhood children free in a makeshift chair in the basement of his rooming house.

Judge Victor said he too "considered buying a pair of clippers when the price of a haircut went up to $1.75 but I decided against it." He added: "I agree you've been doing this with perfectly good inten-

Giant Killers Also Die At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — There's always a giant killer prowling around Wimbledon.

They come in all sizes and shapes, bask in the limelight at the Wimbledon Tennis Championships for a few hours and disappear all stage wondering where all the glory went so suddenly.

First to arise was 19-year-old Ramanathan Krishnan, stocky Indian economics student, who eliminated Jaroslav Drobny, fifth seed, in the opening round.

That took real doing and Krishnan went on to another victory in the second round.

Then it was all over.

He was demolished by Mal Anderson, young Australian, in three straight sets.

Next "killer" was Bobbie Wilson, 20-year-old English boy who took the measure of fourth-seeded Budge Patty, mustachioed American who lives in Paris.

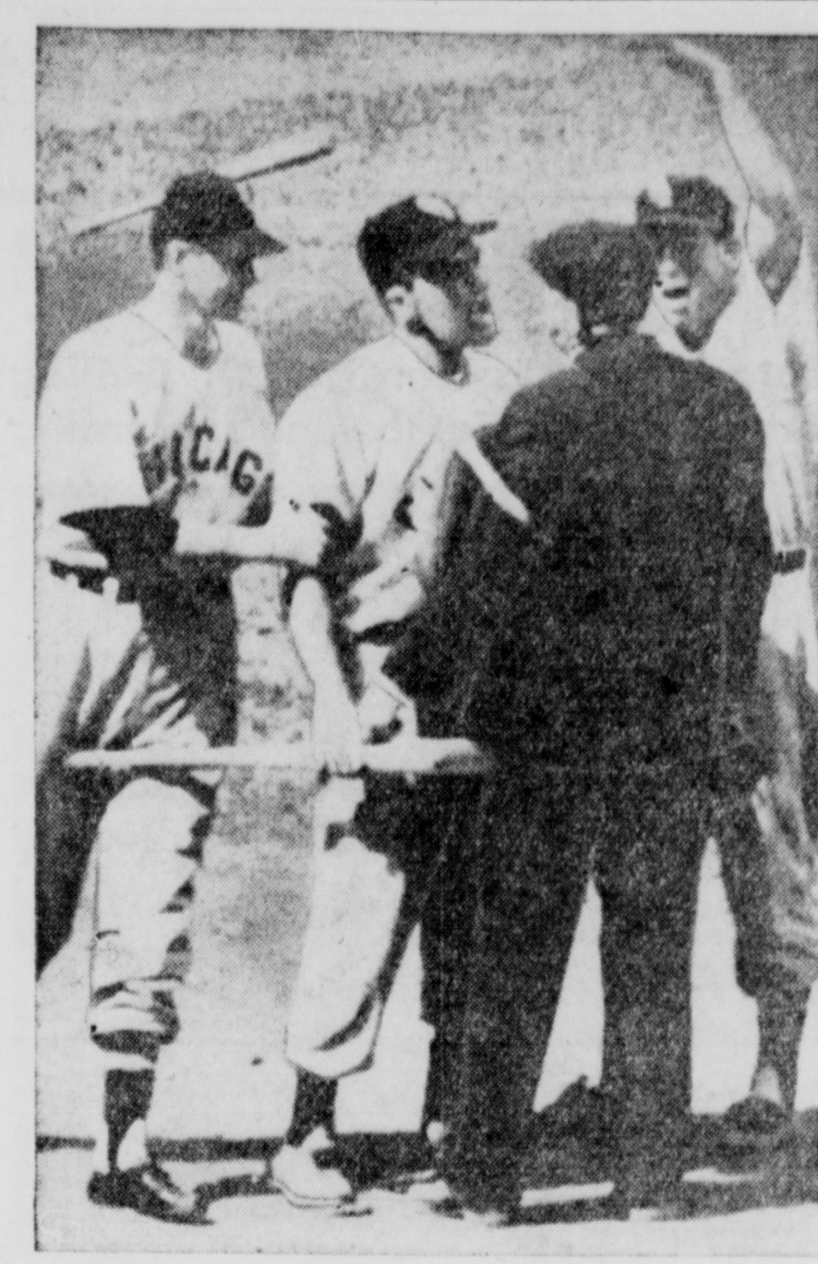

Wilson's rise, too, was short.

He lost in the following round to another Australian, Neale Fraser, also in straight sets.

Then there was Ashley Cooper, still another Australian and only 20, who stunned everyone by eliminating third seeded Sven Davidson, bowlegged Swede.

Cooper won one more match and then departed to contemplate on the fleetness of fame a victim of Allen Morris, 23-year-old Atlanta swinger who thereupon entered the quarter finals.

When Harvard captain Ken Rosas blanked Army, 4-0, with four hits it marked his third pitching victory in eight days.

Even Schedule Is Big Help To Crafty Casey

Chisox, Indians Duel Each Other As Stengel Sits At Ease At Home

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

How about that crafty Casey Stengel? He's even got the schedule working for him with the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians all tangled up in a dog fight just when they finally looked ready to challenge his American League leading New York Yankees.

It was the White Sox who bopped the Yankees four straight last weekend and kept right on rolling to win 11 of 12 games. The Indians, meanwhile, were winning eight in a row.

Friday night the two contenders opened a four-game set in Cleveland with a twilight doubleheader and the only winner was Stengel, who was safe in Yankee Stadium watching his guys beat Washington 3-1 with a minimum of effort.

Herb Score knocked off the White Sox 5-2 on a three-hitter in the opener, stretching the Tribe's string to nine games. But then Billy Pierce put the Sox right, becoming the first 12-ga. winner in the majors by striking out 10 and giving the Indians just four hits in a 13-2 romp.

With their fourth straight victory, the Yankees padded their lead to three games over the White Sox with the Indians 5 1/2 games back in third.

Fourth place Boston beat Baltimore 7-6 with some nifty relief work by Ike Delock. And Detroit defeated Kansas City 5-0 on Billy Hoelt's five-hitter.

In the National, first place Milwaukee lost its third straight 8-4 to the Chicago Cubs, but Cincinnati muffed the chance to take over the lead losing to the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1 as Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell stopped a five-game Redleg winning streak with a four-hitter.

Brooklyn's Duke Snider, Raney Jackson and Gil Hodges socked consecutive ninth-inning homers to move the third place Dodgers within one game of first with a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia. And runs in the seventh inning to beat Pittsburgh scored three unearned last place New York 6-3.

Hal Narbonne's two-run homer broke a 2-2 tie for the Indians in the first game as Score won his seventh and didn't permit the White Sox to get back in the game. The nightcap became Pierce's seventh straight victory in his 14 decisions.

The White Sox banged lobster Bob Lemon and two relievers for 16 hits.

Right-hander Bob Grim won his fifth for the Yankees, allowing only two hits—one Clint Courtney's home run—before straining a tendon while pitching the eighth inning. Relievers Don Larsen and Rip Coleman held the Nats hitless. The Yanks had just five hits, but Pete Ramos walked the bases full in the first and Hank Bauer doubled for two runs. Mickey Mantle walked all four times he came to bat.

Jackie Jensen's two-run homer, his 10th, tied the score for Boston in the seventh inning and Billy Goodman and Billy Klaus then doubled and tripled to win it in the eighth.

Al Kaline and Charlie Maxwell homered back-to-back for the Tigers in the sixth inning off loser Tom LaSorda. Maxwell also homered with one on in the ninth.

Mizell, who had lost three straight, won his eighth, giving up the Redleg run in the sixth on a walk and Ed Bailey's double. Three runs in the seventh, on two singles, Bobby DelGrecio's ground-rule double, an error and sacrifice fly, won it for the Cards.

Stu Miller had the Brooks checked on four hits till the ninth, when he gave a walk and was tagged for Snider's 17th homer and 250th career shot. Reliever Jack Meyer's second pitch was smacked by Jackson to tie it. Hodges, who like Snider had homered earlier then won it with his 15th homer on the next pitch.

Bob Rush (7-3) put away the Braves with a nine-hitter while the Cubs scored three unearned runs off loser Lew Burdette (7-4).

Tebbetts Realizes Long-Time Ambition In Round-about Way

NEW YORK (AP)—Working under Gabe Paul has fulfilled, in a roundabout way, a long-time ambition for Manager Birdie Tebbetts whose Cincinnati Redlegs have erupted from a chronic second division club into a solid contender.

"One thing I've always wanted," confided the aggressive Redleg pilot the other day, "was to work under either Branch Rickey or two of the finest baseball brains in the country. At one time I was seriously thinking of asking either of them for a job in their office, at $25 a week, just so I could learn how they think. I wanted to take some of their knowledge away from them."

When Tebbetts encountered Rickey last spring, he told him how much he regretted never having worked under him but added quickly: "I don't think I have lost so much, now." Rickey appeared puzzled until Birdie added: "You see, I'm working for your star pupil."

Rickey's star pupil, of course, is Gabe Paul, the Redlegs' energetic vice president and general manager, who is Tebbetts' boss. In less than three years with Paul, Birdie has received an education comparable to his four years at Providence College plus a two-year post graduate course at New Hampshire.

There is no doubt that a great deal of Cincinnati's success stems from the spectacular trades engineered by the 46-year-old Paul since he succeeded Warren Giles as head of the Redlegs five years ago. Although he has spent 29 years in baseball, not counting his clubhouse and mascot days at Rochester, Gabe is regarded as a youth. Probably it's because of his youthful appearance and boyish grin.

"Gabe has the youth and courage to do the things I thought about doing," said Giles, explaining his former aide's tremendous success.

Redlegs Taste First Place For 4 Hours

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Chicago Cubs boosted Cincinnati's Redlegs into the National League lead yesterday, but the Reds vacated the premies four hours later.

The Reds' 4-1 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals tumbled them back to second and returned Milwaukee's Braves to the lead. The Cubs had handed the Braves their third straight setback, 8-4 in an afternoon game to hand the lead to the Reds.

The loss cut the Reds' win streak at five straight and featured a pitching duel between two southpaws, Joe Nuxhall and Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell.

A two-run wild throw by catcher Ed Bailey helped the Cardinals in the seventh inning.

The Reds had come from behind and tied the score 1-1. But Hal Smith singled and Bobby Del Greco hit a double.

Then Mizell hit to shortstop Roy McMillan who relayed to the plate. But Bailey's fling to Ray Jablonski at third went into the outfield and two men scored.

Mizell got to second, reached third on a single and scored on a sacrifice fly by Al Dark.

Cincinnati's best hit was Bailey's double in the sixth which brought home Frank Robinson who had walked.

The second of four games with the Cards is scheduled today with Hal Jeffcoat slated to oppose Murray Dickson on the mound.

First Place For 4 Hours

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Red Cubs boosted Cincinnati's lead into the National League yesterday, but the Reds vacated the lead when they lost the first three hours of the game.

The Reds' 4-1 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals tumbled Cincinnati from first place back to second and returned the lead to the St. Louis waukee's Braves to the lead. The Cardinals won the game 4-1, but the Reds had handed the Braves their third straight setback, 8-4, in the first game of the afternoon game to hand the lead to the Reds.

The loss cut the Reds' streak at five straight and forced them to pitch a doubleheader with the Cardinals on Sunday. Southpaws, Joe Nuxhall and

Professionals Due For $5 Assessment

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. — An assessment of $5 will be made against all pros and amateurs competing in each PGA-sponsored golf tournament until a fund of $21,000 is raised, it was decided at a meeting of the professional golfers last night.

Pro Bob Toski of Holyoke, Mass., one of the co-chairmen of the players' tournament committee, said the assessment would be made in place of the previous motion of a three per cent cut from all prize money. This money is to pay the salary and expenses of proposed tournament manager, Edwin C. Carter of San Anselmo, Calif.

Texas, Ohioan Vie In College Golf Duel

COLUMBUS — The tourney medalist and a hometown favorite met today for the National Intercollegiate Golf Championship.

Battling were Rex Baxter Jr. of Houston University, who led the 36-hole qualifier by six strokes, and Rick Jones of Ohio State.

Baxter, native of Amarillo, Tex., in 82 match play holes, has scored 12 birdies, 12 bogies, one double bogey and 57 pars. Jones, from Youngstown, had to go 19 and 20 holes to oust two foes yesterday. He has 63 pars, 13 bogies and 8 birdies.

Jimmy Thistle Wins Feature Pace

COLUMBUS — Three spills, five photo finishes and three dead heats, plus the victory of Jimmy Thistle in the feature fifth and eighth divided 20 Class Pace for $2,000 highlighted last night's program at Hilliard Raceway.

Thistle finished in a dead heat with Phyllis Ann in the fifth, and was second back of Hoots Dream in the eighth but was awarded the trophy for standing best in the summaries. He is owned by Ed Loar of Plain City.

Finsterwald Tied For 7th In Meet

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. — Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, fired a 64 (low score for the day) and wound up in an eight-way tie for seventh place at the end of the second round of the Insurance City Open golf tourney at Wethersfield Country Club yesterday.

First Seven-Foot High Jump Sparkles Olympic Tryouts

LOS ANGELES — Two world records, one of them the first 7-foot high jump in history, point up today the predictions that Uncle Sam's Olympic track and field team will be the strongest ever.

Eight events were held in final Olympic trials at the Coliseum Friday night and only one failed to produce a record of one type or another. More are expected in today's final nine.

Charley Dumas, a 19-year-old from California's Compton Junior College, produced the greatest thrill when he cleared 7 feet 3/4 inch in the high jump.

The 7-foot barrier long had been compared with the previously reached goals of 4 minutes for the mile run and 60 feet for the shot put. It was the last to fall.

Dumas' leap goes into the record as 7 feet 1/2 inch because of the world record ruling that heights should be measured to the nearest quarter of an inch.

Ohio State sophomore Glenn Davis smashed the Russian-held record in the 400-meter hurdles when he sped the barriers in 49.5 seconds. The accepted world mark of 50.4 is held by Yuriy Lituyev.

University of Texas freshman Eddie Southern, finishing second, also came under the world mark with a time of 49.7 and third place Josh Culbreath of the Marines equalled it.

Abilene Christian won the 100-meters dash in 10.3 seconds but in the preliminaries he and two oth-

Ohio Senate Shuns Lausche Appointments

Only 1 Of 28 Names Given Nod; Governor Voices Disappointment

COLUMBUS (AP) — Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche expressed disappointment today over the failure of the Republican-controlled Ohio Legislature to confirm most of his appointments.

The two-day special session of the Legislature wound up late yesterday and Lausche issued this statement today on the Senate's failure to confirm 27 of the 28 appointments that he recommended:

"I am deeply disappointed in the failure of the Senate to confirm the appointments I transmitted to it. Practically all of them are reappointments of members of existing boards and all are able and qualified individuals.

"I have no comment to make on the motives which actuated them not to consider the nominations."

The only appointee to be confirmed was Daniel M. Heekin of Cincinnati to be a member of the State Highway Construction Council.

Some observers saw the failure to confirm other appointees as an attempt to give the next governor a freer hand. Lausche is running for the U. S. Senate next fall against incumbent Republican Sen. George H. Bender.

THE SENATE made quick work of bills before it to protect local governments from financial loss. The bills were passed on the spot after the title of each was read three times. The law makers didn't bother holding committee meetings on the measures which:

1. Restored the court-invalidated tax on the shares of the active capital of financial institutions by wording the bill to overcome the court's objections.

2. Appropriated $12 million from the state treasury to pay local government's tax losses.

3. Increased the tax on shares and active capital of financial institutions from 8% to five per cent for three years. This will cover about $10 million of the $12 million appropriation.

Without objection, the Legislature passed three other bills to remedy special situations. The measures:

1. Removed the limits on municipalities' sale of water to consumers outside their boundaries. This gives the go-ahead to a proposed General Motors Corp. plant in the Warren-Youngstown area.

A five-mile limit on the sale of water outside municipalities had threatened to prevent Niles, Warren or Youngstown from serving the plant.

2. Validated the procedure used in Franklin and 17 other counties for the last eight years in amending county and township zoning plans. A court decision recently knocked out some 400 changes in Franklin County since 1948. The new bill validates all past changes except for those now involved in lawsuits.

3. Corrected a typographical error in the legal description of a canal land tract the Legislature conveyed to the city of St. Bernard, Hamilton County, in 1955.

The Senate asked the Legislative Service Commission to study a proposal to purchase Cedar Point, with the cooperation of the Natural Resources Department, and report back by Nov. 1. A resolution said the General Assembly was "favorably disposed" toward establishment of the resort as a state park.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russian reaction was awaited today to a U. S. policy approved by President Eisenhower to broaden contacts with Iron Curtain countries.

Eisenhower concurred yesterday in a recommendation of the National Security Council that reciprocal exchanges of "information and ideas" be established between the two countries.

The proposal was first made at Geneva last October by the Western foreign ministers. The administration, meantime, has been debating the extent to which it should be liberal or tough in such matters as exchanging visitors.

Eisenhower concurred yesterday in a recommendation of the National Security Council that reciprocal exchanges of "information and ideas" be established between the two countries.

The proposal was first made at Geneva last October by the Western foreign ministers. The administration, meantime, has been debating the extent to which it should be liberal or tough in such matters as exchanging visitors.

Robert Huffer New Head Of Dem Committee

Elected As Chairman Of Executive Body, Succeeding Herrmann

Robert H. Huffer was elected chairman of the Pickaway County Democratic Executive Committee at an organization meeting last night, succeeding Karl J. Herrmann who has held the post for the past eight years.

The new chairman, a son of Roy Huffer of 426 N. Court St., is a native of Circleville and has always had his home here. Earlier this year he was released from the armed services after completing duty with a field artillery unit.

He is a graduate of Ohio State University's law school and has already started his practice here. Herrmann declined an opportunity to be re-elected to the office. He was not a candidate for reasons of health.

OTHER officers elected by the Democratic executive group were: Virgil May, vice chairman; Ralph Wallace, treasurer; and Mary Fuller, secretary.

A short time ago, Charles W. Morris Jr. of Salt Creek Township was elected chairman of the county's Democratic Central Committee.

His election as chairman of the executive group caught Huffer by surprise. He said he attended the meeting, but the elections were completed before he arrived.

"Nevertheless," he said, "I want to make it clear that I welcome the honor with enthusiasm and will look forward to its high responsibilities."

"It will take me a little time to look around and get a closer view of the organization's working, so that I can give the caliber of leadership the party deserves. I intend to do everything possible to make the functions of the committee more effective."

Single Shot Rocket Goes Up 163 Miles

WHITE SANDS, N. M. (AP) — An Aerobee-Hi rocket blasted 163 miles above the earth yesterday to set a record for a single-stage rocket.

The old record was 158 miles, set in 1954 by a Viking II.

The stratosphere-piercing flight was made as test firings continued in the current series of upper-air probes in the International Geophysical Year program.

The Aerobee-Hi and Viking are among the rockets which get their power from a single burning cell. Compound, multiple stage rockets employ two or more cells, with one taking over after earlier units have burned out and been dropped to the ground.

Gas Truck Upsets, 10 Buildings Fired

CINCINNATI (AP) — A gasoline truck trailer overturned and exploded here today, setting fire to 10 stores and residences and destroying four parked autos.

One woman died as she was being helped to safety from her burning home and authorities said her death apparently was due either to a heart attack or shock.

The accident and fire occurred near the intersection of Harrison and State Avenues and close to the end of the heavily traveled Western Hills Viaduct.

Approximately 50 persons were routed from their homes as burning gasoline was sprayed over the frame buildings.

Ike Is Handed Foreign Aid Bill Victory

Trouble Still Ahead As House Must Merge Views With Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower could count a substantial victory today in Senate passage of a $4,562,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill but his mutual security program still faces a series of tough congressional hurdles.

Ahead lay compromise of this bill, then House-Senate battles over appropriations. The Senate passed its version of the legislation 54-25 last night and sent it to conference with the House.

The Senate beat down every attempt to put in amendments opposing the administration, including two big across-the-board cuts in the $4,562,000,000 program recommended by its Foreign Relations Committee. Instead, it added $60 million for two special programs. The amount is still about $340 million below Eisenhower's request.

Wary senators stayed in session until 11 p. m. for the second successive night to wind up their voting on the bill, listed by the President as of key importance to the free world alliance against the Communist bloc of nations.

FOES OF FOREIGN aid spending surprisingly abandoned any moves to push for a long series of cuts. In the past they have offered successive amendments for decreasing cuts until they found one that could command a majority.

But it was clear that some senators were reserving their main fire for the appropriations bill which must follow the authorization measure.

The next battle will be in the Senate-House conference on the authorization bill, expected to be held next week. The House version of the measure totaled $3.8 billion.

On final passage, the bill was supported by 27 Democrats and a like number of Republicans. Thirteen Democrats and 12 Republicans voted "no."

The measure was in much deeper trouble with Democrats this time than in recent years.

Some Democrats said the bill placed too much emphasis on continued military aid, too little on technical and economic assistance to meet the new Russian economic Others contended the Eisenhower administration had lived off an accumulated backlog of appropriations from the Truman regime and then in this election year had come in with a sharply increased request which was unpalatable to many voters.

The President asked for a $4.9 billion program for the fiscal year which starts Sunday. This compares with $2.7 billion voted in the 1955 session.

As passed by the Senate, the bill carried $600 million more for military aid and about $160 million more for economic assistance than the House version.

Principal Says He Suggested Use Of Paddle

MCCONNELSVILLE (AP) — The principal of nearby Deavertown high school says he suggested to ousted teacher Jack Eberle that he use a paddle on his pupils because "it was practically like recess" in Eberle's room all the time.

Principal Robert Barton testified before the Deavertown school board as hearing resumed last night in Eberle's dismissal from the local high school on charges that he paddled five 15-year-old girl students and taught Bible in class.

"He (Eberle) was clowning pretty much all of the time in all of his classes," Barton said.

The principal had charged the 25-year-old teacher and church pastor with failing to cooperate and failing to maintain discipline in his classes.

Barton testified he repeatedly attempted to advise Eberle on discipline in his classes, and even suggested that Eberle use the paddle on youngsters to maintain order.

Ohio Fuel Gas Rate Hike Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has been ordered to cut its proposed $1,045,000 annual wholesale natural gas rate increase by about $750,000.

In ordering the move, the Federal Power Commission also ordered the company to refund to customers the difference between the rate approved and the proposed rate which it has been collecting since March 1, 1954.

Final Try Made To Avert Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Weary negotiators met again today in one final effort to avert a nationwide steel strike at midnight.

Meanwhile, furnaces grew cold as mills braced for the threatened walkout by 650,000 steelworkers. Production slowed toward a halt in an industry that's basic to the nation's economy.

Even if a strike were averted, it might be a month before steel operations return to normal. The banking of fires, now underway, takes about three days. Reheating takes much longer.

Warren Slayer 'Seen' Again

Deputies Renew Hunt On Woman's Report

WARREN (AP) — Law enforcement officers drew a tight cordon early today around a wooded area near here, hoping to corner fugitive slayer Alfred Wilson.

Only professional deputies, police and state patrolmen were called into today's hunt. In a square mile of back woods country near U. S. 422, about two miles northwest of this city.

The burly truck driver, who shot and killed three women a week ago Thursday, was reported seen in the area late yesterday by a frightened housewife.

Before darkness settled, a posse stamped through the area for two hours, but found nothing.

Then patrol cars circled the area all night, and extra lighting equipment was brought in to keep every road lighted. Portable searchlights, and the headlights of fire engines and patrol cars, were kept shining along four roads around the area.

The latest attempt to snare the elusive fugitive began when Mrs. Victor Guber, 25, excitedly reported to the sheriff she had seen a man resembling Wilson.

THE MAN CAME out of the woods and told her he was hungry, said Mrs. Guber.

"I'll give you something to eat if you'll let me and my children alone," she replied.

Then she panicked and ran into the house, and heard a shot behind her as she ran, said Mrs. Guber. A neighbor also heard the shot and made an unsuccessful attempt to find the man.

Wilson, after a dispute with his common law wife, killed her two sisters and a 17-year-old high school girl he chanced to meet in his flight a week ago.

Slug Of Whisky OK For Snakebite?

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Is a slug of whisky really an antidote for snakebite?

The National Science Foundation has given Arizona State College at Tempe $2,000 to seek the answer. So far the research has been promising.

Dr. Herbert L. Stahnke, director of the college's poisonous animals research laboratory, injected a double dose of scorpion venom into a rat. Then he gave the rat a fast dose of scotch. The rat recovered.

Similar experiments are planned with the venom of gila monsters, rattlesnakes and black widow spiders.

5 More Ohio Towns OK'd For Storm Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ohio communities of Elyria, Campbell, Struthers, Lowellville and Reynoldsburg have qualified for federal assistance because of damaging storms that hit those areas last weekend.

President Eisenhower Friday acted on the request of Gov. Frank J. Lausche to include those regions in Ohio's disaster area.

Eisenhower's action amounted to amendment of his May 17 declaration designating other storm-hit regions of Ohio as major disaster areas.

panies producing more than 90 per cent of the nation's steel began talks more than a month ago to forge a new contract. The old one dies at midnight tonight.

The steel companies have insisted on a five-year agreement to succeed the present two-year pact. The union says it cannot bind the steelworkers to so long a contract. The company later cut its demands to four years and four months.

STELWORKERS are "hot, really hot" against acceptance of the industry offer, union president David J. McDonald said.

The Eisenhower administration, meanwhile, took a hands-off attitude toward the negotiations for the moment. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said federal mediation services are "available to the parties if they wish them."

The union has asked for a "substantial" but unspecified wage increase over the present average pay of $2.46 an hour, double pay for Sunday, time and a half pay for Saturdays, a 52-week layoff pay plan, a company paid insurance program and other benefits.

The companies offered a 7.3-cent hourly direct wage increase each year for five years, a 52-week layoff pay program, 4 per cent premium pay for Sundays and various vacation, holiday and other benefits.

Last night top officers of the industry's Big Three—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic—and nine other major firms rejected an invitation to confer personally with McDonald.

They said "no useful purpose" could be served by changing negotiating procedures.

McDonald replied: "The top management has turned down our invitation to meet with them. The responsibility is theirs."

Pay-As-Ride Road Program Nearing Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxes on gasoline and other items for highway users go up tonight at midnight to help finance an immediate start on the nation's pay-as-you-ride road-building program.

Emphasizing speed in getting the $33 billion program underway, a Federal Bureau of Public Roads official predicted:

"We'll be clearing trees, moving dirt and paying out money within 60 days—and certainly before Oct. 1."

The program calls for construction of 41,000 miles of interstate superhighways in the next 13 to 16 years and additional thousands of miles of urban and connecting intrastate roads.

But for the motorist the first noticeable effect will be the tax increase. He will feel it Sunday in an increase of one cent a gallon in the federal gasoline tax.

The same boost applies to diesel fuel for trucks.

The present 5 cents a pound tax on tires goes up to 8 cents; retread rubber will be taxed for the first time at 3 cents a pound; the manufacturer's excise tax on trucks, buses and truck-trailers goes up from 8 to 10 per cent; and truckers must pay $1.50 a year per 1,000 pounds for any truck weighing 26,000 pounds or more.

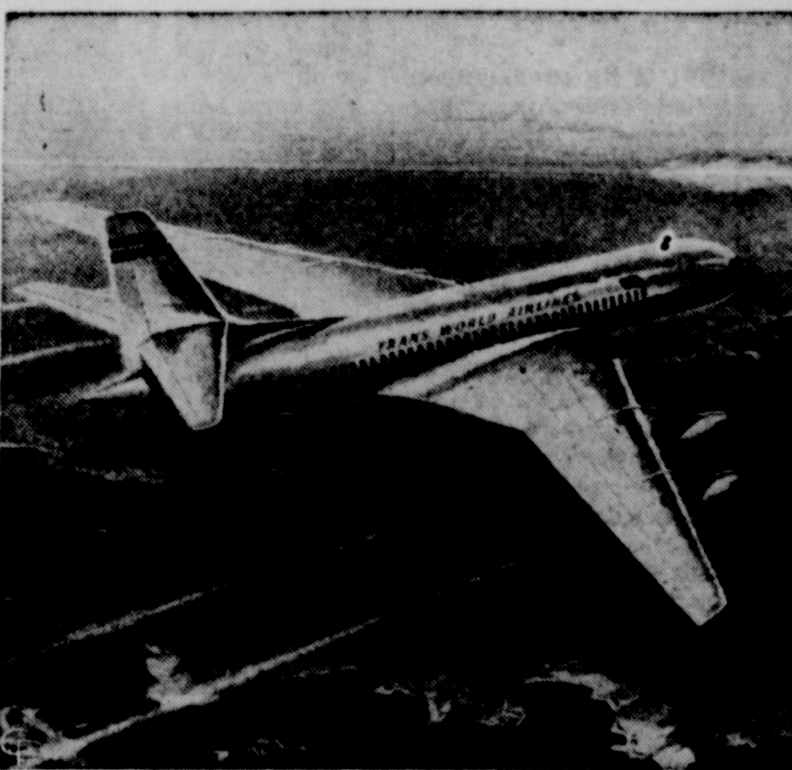

These tax increases, effective until 1972, will yield an estimated $14.8 billion. They will be added to present motor taxes amounting to about $23½ billion for that period to make up a highway trust fund of about $38½ billion for the pay-as-you-go road building project.

Twining Visits Red Air Force Academy

MOSCOW (AP) — Gen. Nathan B. Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff, today visited the Red Air Force Academy at Monino.

Twining was accompanied by aides and a group of British, French and Turkish officers for the trip to the academy about 25 miles from Moscow.

Western reporters were told they could not go along because the academy is in a closed zone.

Adlai, Ave Each Confident He Will Get Democrat Nod

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Adlai Stevenson said in New York yesterday he is "very confident" he will get the Democratic presidential nomination.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said in Chicago he will go into battle at the August convention "with fists flying" to get the nomination for himself.

The two presidential hopefuls invaded each other's territory as Vice President Nixon held a hospital conference with President Eisenhower. Nixon said later Eisenhower has "the old Eisenhower spirit—plenty of bounce."

Harriman, heading into Midwest farm country for the first time since announcing his candidacy, continued his attacks on what he termed the "lopsidedness of Eisenhower prosperity."

On his chances for the nomination, Harriman said "It's a wide open convention. I wouldn't be in the race if I didn't think I could win."

Harriman said he thought there was "very little desire" for a third party in the South. "I think the South will support the Democratic nominee chosen at the convention."

Meanwhile, Republican and Democratic speakers vying for the big Negro vote matched civil rights records at the annual convention.

Yates added, "in contrast to the fighting leadership given to the civil rights program by Harry Truman, President Eisenhower has done nothing in its behalf."

Red Premier Pledges To Correct Errors In Satellite Nation

BERLIN (AP) — Travelers said today scattered fighting between armed workers and Polish troops is continuing in Poznan, the Polish industrial city torn by bloody anti-Communist rioting.

As the reports filtered out from behind the Iron Curtain, two American spokesmen deplored the situation, one saying the demonstration was the evil result of communism and the other renewing America's call for granting self-determination within the Red orbit.

Three Western businessmen who arrived in Berlin from Poznan this morning said rifle and machinegun fire and occasional bursts from anti-aircraft guns sounded throughout the city during the night.

The men, who refused to be quoted by name, reported isolated groups of armed workers still were battling the troops backed by tanks and jet planes. Poland's Communist government claimed yesterday the revolt had been crushed.

The travelers said they heard reports in Poznan that the embattled workers offered a cease-fire on the condition that all persons arrested in the revolt be released and all troops be withdrawn from the city.

RED PREMIER Josef Cyrankiewicz promised the rebellious workers his regime will correct "mistakes" and raise living standards.

But he blamed the uprising on "imperialist agents" and declared "everyone who raises his hand against the people can be sure it will be hacked off in the interests of the working class."

Berlin was flooded with unconfirmed reports of anti-Communist unrest in other Polish cities and the Baltic states, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia. Telephone operators in Stockholm reported communication with the Baltic states had been cut.

Western embassies in Warsaw reported there were indications the revolt had been planned carefully and the rebels somehow had secured and hidden large stocks of weapons and ammunition.

In Miami, Fla., U. S. Vice President Nixon said today the current uprisings in Communist Poland "eloquently illustrate" the "modern type of colonial imperialism the Communists have imposed."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower walked smilingly out of Walter Reed Army Hospital today after a three weeks stay and headed for his Gettysburg, Pa., farm to convalesce.

Although Eisenhower has said absolutely nothing publicly on whether he plans to stay in the presidential race, Republican party leaders are proceeding on the assumption he will remain a candidate for re-election. The speculation is that Eisenhower may disclose his plans during the Gettysburg stay.

It was three weeks ago Friday that Eisenhower was taken to Walter Reed by ambulance after being stricken with ileitis, or inflammation of the small intestine. It was three weeks ago today, in the predawn hours, that he underwent major abdominal surgery for relief of partial blockage of the intestine.

The State Department, after lengthy conferences involving Secretary Dulles and other high officials, made this statement:

"THE UNITED STATES government is profoundly shocked to learn of the shooting at Poznan which killed and wounded so many persons. Our sympathy goes out to the families of these people who were merely expressing their profound grievances. They apparently feel that their government primarily serves the interests of the Soviet Union.

"This episode dramatically underlines what President Eisenhower said to the Soviet rules at Geneva—namely, that the peoples of Eastern Europe, many with a long and proud record of national existence, should be given the benefit of our wartime pledge that they should have the right to choose the form of government under which they will live and their sovereign rights should be restored to them."

Choral Group Sings Sunday At Ashville

The public has been invited to choral vespers planned by the Ashville Community Chorus at 8 p. m. Sunday in the Ashville High School auditorium.

Dr. Ellis Snyder of Capital University, a native of this district and widely known as director of the university's great choir, will be guest conductor. The program of religious music will include hymns, anthems and negro spirituals.

It will be the third concert of this type for the community singers, drawn from all over the local area. A number of church choirs are represented in the group.

Choral vespers were offered around this time last year, and a concert was also presented last Christmas.

The Sunday night gathering to hear the chorus is expected to be especially well attended because it comes on the eve of Ashville's traditional Fourth of July celebration. Many former residents of the area have returned for the program.

EDITOR, THE HERALD:

In answer to your request for suggestions of ways to reduce highway accidents I believe the basic three "E's" must be followed, completely and in detail, before the accident rate will be appreciably reduced. These three "E's" are Education, Engineering and Enforcement.

Education should start as soon as a child is able to walk. Staying out of streets and off highways, etc. are the primary teachings. Later, looking both ways before crossing streets, not riding toys where motor vehicles travel, and the like should be taught.

School age children should be taught safety and especially highway safety as a regular subject and early in the grades emphasis should be placed on obeying the rules of the road so that when driving begins breaking speed laws will be regarded correctly as a criminal act rather than "just a lark."

In High Schools, driver training should be a compulsory course for all children, not just a few willing to learn. Following High School the subject should not be dropped, highway safety should be included in Engineering courses, Ethics, etc. in the College curriculum.

In addition if reexamination for drivers licenses were required every three or five years, this procedure could be used to further highway safety education immeasurably.

Engineering for highway safety should not only follow the obvious modern highway engineering practices which every community should vigorously promote, but should include engineering safety into the automobile. Governor Lausche made the point last week when he said car manufacturers should be made responsible for engineering safety in their cars.

Why make a car that will go one hundred and fifty miles an hour? To kill someone quicker? With so many one car, "ran out of road" type accidents it is obvious that cars have reached uncontrollable speeds, perhaps because the driver was aware that he was approaching such a speed.

Top speeds of 75-80 m.p.h. will kill someone quickly enough if poorly driven, why exceed that? In recent years safety has been engineered more and more into cars, like include a speed limit. Enforcement the third "E", must be complete to be effective. If the punishment for a misdeed is sure and severe, the misdeeds cease. Only by competent and complete enforcement can speed laws be effective. If a person knows that if he is caught the punishment will be severe and that the likelihood of his being caught is great, the person is more likely to resist that impulse to "step on the gas and see what he will do" or "show that guy he can't pass me" or the like.

I suggest that by following an effective and complete program such as touched on above, the deaths and injuries on the highway will be reduced.

FARM NEWS and VIEWS

By R. S. SWENSON, County Agent

The blood sucking fly commonly seen in groups clustered on the backs of cattle are with us again. They cause considerable discomfort to animals and may cause infested animals to lose as much as 1/2 pound per day during the fly season. Milk production is also reduced.

Cattle can be treated automatically by a back rubbing device which has been treated with an insecticide. An easy method is to use a cable, chain, or 3 strands of barbed wire wrapped in burlap sacks and hang between 2 posts, then treated with an insecticide with an oil base.

For dairy herds the sack should be treated with a 5 percent methoxychlor-oil solution. For beef herds the treatment can be a 5 percent DDT-oil solution. A mixture of 1 quart of a 25 percent imulsion concentrate of either insecticide with 1 gallon of fuel oil will do the trick. Motor oil can be used but it is not recommended due to its higher price. The back rubber should be located near a water trough or other area frequented by the cattle.

Combine Adjustment
With the approach of the small grain harvesting season, Pickaway County farmers are reminded to check their combines and have them adjusted properly before they move into the field. Improper cylinder speed, too much or too little air, or operating in extremely heavy straw can cause several bushels per acre to be left on the ground. Proper reel adjustment is also important. Manufacturers instructions should be followed as nearly as possible in combine operation.

4-H Camps
A few 4-H camp reservations have been received at the county extension office. Respective campers are reminded that the 4-H Junior Camp will be held at Tar Hollow from Sunday, July 15, to Thursday, July 19.

4-H club members aged 9 through 13 are eligible for first camp. The second camp, or Senior Camp, will be held from Thursday, July 26, through Monday, July 30. 4-H members aged 14 through 21 are eligible to attend Senior Camp. Reservations are being taken on a first come, first serve basis at our office.

4-H Enrollment
Interest in 4-H club work is definitely on the increase in Pickaway County. As of June 1, the deadline for 4-H enrollment, there were 780 members enrolled with 338 of those being boys and 442 girls.

Ohio Auto Dealer Law Ruled Void

LIMA (U.S.A.)—An Ohio law requiring a new car dealer to file with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles a copy of his agreement with an automobile manufacturer has been declared unconstitutional.

Lima Municipal Court Judge Carl M. Blank has upheld a demurrer filed by attorneys for Ora Coates, Lima used car dealer, contending charges against Coates by the bureau were void.

Coates was charged with selling a new automobile and failing to inform the bureau of a manufacturer's agreement. The judge said the law denied Coates the rights which are guaranteed by the Ohio Constitution and the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

County Home To Dedicate Sorority Gift

Altar, Candelabra, Picture Presented By Kappa Alpha

Presented by the Kappa Alpha Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, a new altar, candelabra, cross and religious picture will be dedicated Sunday afternoon at the Pickaway County Home. The ceremonies are set for 2 p. m.

The Rev. John C. Hurst will deliver a brief talk.

Presentation of the religious furnishings is a direct result of the sorority's successful work during last year's Pumpkin Show, at which time the sorority won first place in its competitive division.

Members of the organization voted to use their prize money for a community project, and later selected a proposal to set up the chapel area at the county home.

THE WOODEN altar, hand-carved cross and candelabra were made by Harley Binkley, John Hinrod finished the altar and transported it to the county home, a short distance east of Circleville.

A new American flag will be added to the furnishings by the Pickaway County commissioners.

An illuminated picture of the head of Christ, placed above the altar, was purchased by the sorority members.

The Rev. Mr. Hurst conducts church services for the men and women at the home on the first Sunday of each month. The public has been invited to attend the dedication service tomorrow.

Ohio Bishop Says God Now 'Optional'

NEW ORLEANS (U.S.A.)—Bishop Hazen G. Werner, Methodist bishop of the Ohio area, said here last night God becomes optional in a society where man can do everything himself.

Werner told more than 300 lay and ministerial delegates to the South Central Jurisdictional Conference the average person has acquired a "deceiving complacency because of his confidence in materials and scientific success."

"God," he said, "is no longer the supreme fact of life. We have exchanged the 'pearl of the great prize' for some costume jewelry. We've lost our sense of values and have mistaken success for righteousness and comfort for holiness."

New Legion Head Outlines His Plans

Moon Aims At More Community Teamplay, Aid From Older Men

The newly-elected commander of Circleville's American Legion post said today that he will make special efforts to bring his organization into closer unity with other community organizations, and also urge more World War I veterans to participate in Legion activities here.

In disclosing some of the plans he has in view, post commander-elect Wayne R. (Dick) Moon of 237 1/2 E. Main St. asked for the full support of the Legion's membership during his term in office, which begins next month.

Moon was elected to serve one year at the helm of Hall-Adkins Post, No. 134. The Legion post held elections Wednesday night.

The new commander and his staff will take over their duties at a formal installation ceremony on July 11. William E. Stoughton, newly elected commander of the American Legion Seventh District, will conduct the program.

Local Youth 6 Others On Long Trips

A Pickaway County youth and six other young people from Ohio left New York City this week en route to a study of farm life in foreign lands.

The district youth, Charles W. Brown, is traveling to Turkey after a delayed departure. Brown is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Brown of near Williamsport.

The seven delegates, going abroad under an International Farm Exchange arrangement, will live and work with farm families until next fall, when they are scheduled to return to the States. In addition to Brown, members of the group are:

Mary Jane Denison of Glenford, going to Finland; Hazel Virginia Eckart of Copley, to France; Harold Leon Merkle of Wren, to Switzerland; Ray Wright Focht of Waynesfield, to Iran; Paul Henry Miller of Sunbury, to Iraq, and Ed Pickering, of Jamestown, to Israel.

H. W. HARSHFIELD, state 4-H club leader, said the Ohio delegates are part of a group of 63 IFYE delegates who left the United States this week to visit rural families in 20 foreign countries.

The IFYE project, sponsored by the National 4-H Club Foundation and the Cooperative Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and land-grant colleges and universities, supports the idea that understanding is the basis of peace. As IFYEs, selected farm youths from the United States take part in home and farm activities in other countries for four to six months, and youth from those countries in turn come to live with American farm families.

A number within the past few years have come for visits with Pickaway County families.

Headstones Available For Vet Graves

Pickaway County Veteran's Service Officer James P. Shea reminded parents, children and other close kin of deceased veterans that they can apply for a government headstone to be placed on a veteran's grave.

The headstone, either of an upright or flat type, can be made of marble or granite. A bronze capping, furnished with anchor bolts for fastening to a foundation, can also be obtained.

Such headstones carry the name of the deceased veteran, his rank and outfit while in the service, date of birth and date of death. The headstones, Shea explained, can very easily be used as foot markers if larger headstones have been used. The flat marble markers are especially suited for this purpose.

The headstones are furnished by the government without cost of any kind to the applicant.

Applications for them can be secured at Shea's office in the basement of the Pickaway County Courthouse. His phone number is 351.

Day Of Pentecost Sermon Topic At Church Of Christ

"Conversion on Pentecost" is given as the sermon topic for the Church of Christ during the Sunday morning worship.

In commenting on this lesson, Charles Cochran says:

"The day of Pentecost was a great day of significance to the people of the Jews. It was one of their annual feast days and always came upon the first day of the week, our Sunday. The day of Pentecost that we read about in Acts 2 was of special significance because it was on this day that our Lord chose to send the Holy Spirit upon the apostles and establish His church which He had promised in Matt. 16:18.

"A great multitude of people came together to witness these strange happenings and heard the apostles speaking in tongues or languages which they had not studied. The main speaker on this occasion was the apostle Peter, speaking by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. The substance of his sermon consisted of the life of Christ, the death of Christ, the resurrection of Christ, the ascension and exaltation of Christ, and His reign on His throne at God's right hand.

"In the process of his sermon Peter points out to this multitude of people that they are the same ones who took Jesus and 'by wicked hands have crucified and slain' (Acts 2:23). At the conclusion of his sermon many of this multitude were 'pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?' Peter said unto them, 'Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost' (Acts 2:37-38).

Two Sacraments Will Be Observed By Presbyterians

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated at the Presbyterian Church during the 10:30 worship hour Sunday morning. The Rev. Donald Mitchell will preside, aided by the ruling elders and the deacons of the church.

Also, the Sacrament of Baptism will be observed and new members will be received into the church. The pastor will present a communion meditation on the theme "The Power of Weak Words," continuing the series of three sermons on the Fourth Gospel, John. The text is found in the fourth chapter, verses 1-18.

In the choir, Don Meyers will sing Malotte's "The Lord's Prayer". Mrs. Theodore L. Huston will present an organ prelude, "Communion", which was composed by the organist of the Cathedral in Luxembourg, Benoit; also, a "Pastorale" and Mozart's "Ave Verum".

An hour of Bible study, beginning at 9:30 a. m., precedes the worship, emphasizing the practical application of Christian Faith to Christian Living in every aspect of our modern life. This is the emphasis throughout all age groups.

The elders will meet following the service of worship.

Local Methodists Will Hear Second In Sermon Series

The Rev. Charles D. Reed will use for his subject at the First Methodist Church Sunday, "The Divine Presence Among Us". This will be the second sermon in a series on The Holy Spirit.

Miss Nancy Sensenbrenner will be the soloist in both the 8:15 and 10:45 a. m. services. Her selection will be, "The Lord's Prayer". Hymns for the services will include "I Am Thine, O Lord" and "Come, We That Love The Lord".

SURPLUSES TO REDS?

MIDWESTERNERS who have strongly opposed trade with the communists may soon be caught on the horns of a dilemma. Secretary of State Dulles in a closed session of the House Agriculture Committee is reported to have urged Congress to remove the ban on selling and bartering surplus farm products to iron curtain countries.

Secretary Dulles is reported to have said that there are opportunities for disposal of surplus commodities to satellite countries, such as Poland and Czechoslovakia. Government officials say they could double the volume of government-owned farm surpluses which could be sold abroad for foreign currencies, now $1.5 billion annually. Many Midwesterners have repeatedly urged the government to get rid of those surpluses somehow, preferably by selling them abroad. At the same time they have protested every lowering of the trade barriers between East and West. The chance to cut another $1.5 billion out of that $8 billion stockpile may be too good to pass up. Yet food is certainly a way of strengthening the enemy's hand.

Russia's agricultural difficulties are providing the "empty bins" into which America's surpluses could be stuffed. This floundering part of her economy is considered a major military weakness. It will be interesting to note farm belt reaction to this latest surplus disposal possibility.

A BLOW TO FREEDOM

TURKEY IS IN trouble because of production shortages and inflation. Popular irritations have been expressed by the press through severe criticisms of the government headed by Premier Menderes.

The government is striking back by pushing a press censorship bill through the nation's parliamentary body. Newspapers criticizing the Menderes government would be fined $3,600 and face jail sentences of three years for publishing anything the government considers derogatory. Newsboys would be forbidden to cry any anti-government news. An offending newspaper could be shut down for three months.

If the law is adopted and can be enforced, Turkey will be as much a totalitarian nation as any Communist power so far as freedom of discussion is concerned. That would be embarrassing to the United States which has taken Turkey under its wing. The anti-communist world has freedom to sell more than anything else. When parts of that world go against freedom, it is a black eye for all.

A PEOPLE'S WELCOME

THE MORE American visitors penetrate the iron curtain to tour Russia the more two things become obvious.

1. The astonishing ignorance that the average Russian has of the ordinary facts of life in the Western world, and his curiosity to learn more.

2. The amazing friendship shown Westerners by the common people of Russia. All the years of vilification and untruths spread about this country by the red leaders does not seem to have turned the Russian people to hatred.

One recent tourist to Russia says, "The Russians would reach to touch you, your clothes. And they were always trying to give us things—pins, flowers, whatever they had."

That these people should have such misconceptions—deliberately fed them by their rulers—and yet remain friendly is certainly one of the most curious, and yet strangely hopeful, developments in this depressing world.

The season when many doubt that insects comprise only four-fifths of the animal kingdom is again here.

If more hogs are raised this year, as predicted, will they outnumber the road hogs?

The Pilgrims gave thanks for abundance. Modern man has made an emergency of it.

These Days

Ike's ileum has become quite a thing for doctors who are forbidden by their ethics to advertise but some of whom grab at a straw of publicity like a Hollywood starlet on the way up. Ike's ileum gives everybody a chance who can claim familiarity with the organ.

I saw a piece about a doctor in Boston who never saw Ike's ileum or for that matter Ike in bed, but he profoundly announces that those doctors who were standing over the President's torso when he was opened up and who cut into his flesh and who decided whether the diseased organ was to be clipped off or by-passed did not know what they were talking about, although he says it more politely.

The Boston medico probably used radar or phrenology or faith healing or something so that he could see more of Ike's insides sitting in Boston than any other doctor could know whose fingers were touching Ike's ileum. For that the Boston guy should get a Nobel prize.

I mention no names, for far be it from me to violate the canon of anonymity which is basic with the medical profession. Perhaps some doctors are a bit irked that they were not invited to cut into the President, that being worth a great deal in the way of having the name advertised and pictures in the newspapers.

However, it sometimes works the other way. When I was in the hospital with my own coronary, my family doctor did not call Ike's great heart specialist but another man who made me no guarantees. Ike's great man came to my hospital to see another fellow who was down with the same thing and who sent me a baked apple for which I thank him. But no one thought of getting Ike's specialist to look at me because he favored everybody riding a bicycle and I do not own a bicycle.

Maybe, if my ileum goes bad in imitation of Ike's, there will be a fight among the doctors as to which one is to be called in to clip it out. I favor the fellow who told all and sundry that he has already done about 700. He did not say how many lived afterwards and for how long, but he did say that it is not a too severe operation.

Maybe that is because he is a good clipper, like a barber I know of who makes the hair fit the face in the same way that women get a hair-do. I have never been to this barber because my face is not my fortune. But this can be said: competent clippers are rare and worth their pay, no matter what they cut.

It would be well for all concerned if Ike would stop having these fancy illnesses, so the doctors could subside and not be required to pontificate on how soon he will get well, how long he will live, whether he will get it again or not, and what brought it on in the first place.

Undoubtedly, it was food and those of us who lived in Asia are not famed for abstemious or sensible eating. Ike undoubtedly had all kinds of dysenteries in the Philippines as I did in China. It comes from eating raw food, which Americans like very much but which do not run true to form in some countries because of the things they use for fertilizers.

I am telling this to the quarrelling doctors because maybe nobody has ever told them what can happen to lettuce or watermelons or even scallions in some places.

Also in the Asiatic countries one eats too much. General MacArthur seems to have missed many of these troubles, but he is a man with an iron will who probably always avoided the wrong foods. Also, there are some folks who really do not care, and if they are told not to eat raw fruit, they do not eat raw fruit. Then again, there are others who do what they like and take their chances. A friend of mine died of cholera that way.

This knowledge, I impart to the experts free of charge so that they can know what might have happened to Ike before they started to cure him by remote operations. Meanwhile, they are advised to keep their names out of the accounts. It is against their trade union rules.

Tito, trying to step gingerly in no man's land, could hit a mine field at any time.

If this is the Century of the Little Man, he has 44 more years to get what is coming to him, if anything.

World statesmen trekking to Washington is reminiscent of Rome in its glory. Recalling what time did to Rome, however, is disquieting.

Geologists predict New York City will be under a mile of water a million years hence. If so, Gothamites will have more acquaintance with water than they have now.

CHAPTER 19
PRISCILLA sparkled at the dance. Not as Peggy sparkled—Priscilla was not as exuberant and effervescent—but it was a quiet sparkle that drew attention. More than one guest asked the identity of the attractive girl in the flame-colored velvet, with the page-boy haircut.
Dancing with Dick, Priscilla thought, this is more fun than anything I've ever done in my life. I simply can't believe that I'm in this strange, faraway place, on a private yacht, dancing with the first man I could ever be in love with... "What did you say, Dick?"
The young doctor's arms tightened a little. "Come back from wherever you are... I'm still here." He said so certainly can dance. And you're sweet. I like you, Priscilla.
Priscilla's heart did a cartwheel, but she steeled herself. "I like you too, Doctor," she said, smiling up at him.
"How often may I tell you that?"
"Let's leave it... I mean that we like each other. I mean—I mean—" She stopped, confused, as his arms tightened still more and she met his eyes.
"You mean I'm not to make pretty speeches? Not try to make love to you, even if there is a moon and we're in such a romantic setting?"
"Well," Priscilla's voice was light, "if you want to waste your time like that... But I'm not very susceptible to pretty speeches. Flirtations have always seemed a little pointless to me. Let's keep it on a friendly basis."
"O.K. But I mean it. I do think you're sweet."
"Thanks. You're very flattering. Here's Pete breaking. That gives you a chance to break on the fellow who just took Peggy away from him."
After a moment, Pete said, "Gai, you sure can dance! And did you know everybody's asking about you?"
Priscilla laughed lightly, deprecatingly.
"Know yet how long you're going to stay?"
"Only a few days longer."
"That's too bad." They danced silently for a few moments, then Pete said, "Like Dick?"
"Lots," Priscilla admitted frankly.
"I thought so. Maybe you like him enough to want to hear that it's mutual."
"You're imagining that."
"I'm not. He said so himself. And then, I can tell. Want to do something for me?"
A little surprised, Priscilla said, "Of course. If I can."
"Are you good at pretending?"
"Never tried."
Another moment of silence. Then, "I suppose you know I'm in love with Peggy."
"Who doesn't?" Priscilla said lightly.
Peggy's used to me, always had me tagging around after her. Funny thing... He broke off, laughing, and after a moment continued, "When she was little, she tagged me all the time, got in my hair something awful. Now it's the other way around. I'm tagging her. Everything was going along all right until Doc came here a couple of years ago and started rushing her. I'm not blaming him, of course. But, you see, the lightness went out of his voice. I think Peggy is really in love with me and doesn't realize it. If she thought I was interested in someone else, it might shock her into awareness."
"I see." There was laughter in Priscilla's eyes. "You mean you want to rush me, pretend you're falling in love with me, to make her jealous?"
"Something like that. And I can say it will be fun, too."
"O.K.," Priscilla agreed contentedly. "That will be my good deed. But just what do I do?"
"Let me see you often. Act as if you're interested. Let me dance with you often tonight and I'll break on anyone else who does... Peggy is watching us now. Mind if I hold you a little tighter?"
Dick, dancing with Peggy, said, "Maybe here's where I lose my rival. Pete seems to be quite enamored."
"Not jealous, are you?"
"You mean because he's so attentive to Priscilla? What do you think?"
"But you do find her attractive."
"And then some," Dick said.

Three New Drugs To Fight Disease

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A VARIETY of new drugs and techniques have made medical news recently.

Our monthly review of these advances includes an antibiotic for treatment of acne, synthesis of a new class of antibiotic agents, a mental and physical stimulant and a new development in the long search for a cure for leukemia.

Young Adults

The antibiotic polycycline has been used by Syracuse University scientists for successfully treating acne, a skin condition that afflicts countless teen-agers and young adults.

The results, the scientists report, indicate that the antibiotic exerts more than a germ-killing action since acne is not merely a simple bacterial infection but also involves hormonal imbalance within the body.

Polycycline is known chemically as tetracycline.

Specific Target

The newly synthesized antibiotic agents are related to tetracycline, but pinpoint a specific microbial target. The new drugs are known as tertiary butyltin hydroxytetracycline analogs.

They are reportedly up to 200 times as effective as either tetracycline or Terramycin in the test-tube battle against trichomoniasis, a disease affecting some 10 per cent of the nation's women. No results in humans have been reported.

Cancer Research

In the field of cancer research, scientists have found a virus which for the first time consistently causes mouse leukemia.

This ability to cause leukemia makes it possible to study immunization against the disease by vaccination of animals with the virus. The scientists caution that this does not necessarily indicate that leukemia in humans is a viral disease. But at least it's another step in the quest for the cause and cure.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

B. W.: If both my parents died at an early age from heart disease, would it mean that I also will have a short life?

Answer: No, it does not necessarily mean that. It would depend upon the cause of the heart disease. One does not necessarily inherit disease tendencies.

We must remember that our life expectancy has increased greatly in the last few years.

LUNCHEON CLUB DO'S

Here Are some Tips to Aid You In Making Organization Livelier

By GEORGE C. DWORSHAK
Written for Central Press
and This Newspaper

IS YOUR luncheon club lively, with a varying activity pattern? At your board meeting and district conferences, do you have brain-storming sessions to bring forth new ideas, just as factory foremen and sales managers are urged to have a questioning manner so that better methods and more sales can be achieved?

Ideas such as the following can help your club achieve a functional rejuvenation that will make membership as exciting as it was for those who pioneered the organization. Many of these ideas have been tried by the writer, and the reactions they won prompts the sharing of them with you. Try a few of these:

1—Have a guest-of-the-week—someone deserving friendly recognition for a fine task just completed or for long devotion to a cause. In three to five minutes, it can be told what he has done, and he can take a bow.

2—Invite the musically-minded members to write parodies that make jovial references to the members.

3—Ask one of your writers to note bits of chatter during the meal that can be used without offense in the weekly bulletin. This material will give some conversational starting points at the next meeting.

4—Make lighter luncheons available for those who dislike a heavy meal at noon because it makes them drowsy and uncomfortable the rest of the day.

5—Install a public address system so that long-playing records can be used for background music during the meal.

6—Air-condition your meeting place.

7—Bring a member to his feet for a couple minutes, to tell something about his work or a humorous incident. If the latter is done, have an applause meter that will record the audience reaction for eight to 12 weeks so that an award can be made to the best laugh-getter.

8—If the speaker has come some distance, pay his expenses rather than let the club accumulate the money and eventually give some local cause a large check.

9—Make sure that issues affecting the members individually are brought to them for their decisions in democratic fashion, in keeping with the weekly pledge before the national flag. The authority of leadership in a factory might be different than that in a community organization.

10—In the post-meeting news stories, spotlight the speaker's most dynamic thoughts so other folk in the community may share them and grow, too.

11—Have a hidden mike at a table to pick up meal time conversation, so that a few minutes of it can be played back for a jovial interlude.

12—Use a biographical brief on a new member in your weekly bulletin; it will accelerate his really becoming one of the group.

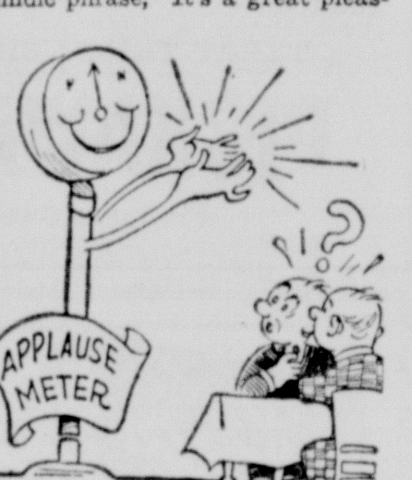

13—Drop a club project that has reached the saturation point.

14—Invite the national president, some member who has moved to another community, or a leader of some remote club to send a five-minute taped message to your group.

15—Have different members preside; it's good for them and will reveal potential presidents.

16—At the end of the year, have the president tape a brief comment on the year's events (50 to 55 typed lines make five minutes' speaking) for use, along with those of his successor, some years later.

17—Really make sure the speaker knows how long he is to talk; beg him to avoid the bromidic phrase, "It's a great pleasure to be here"; urge him to use considerable humor, for that helps win close attention for the serious thoughts he would register; provide a rostrum if he wishes it for convenience or peace of mind.

18—Have an instructional session on parliamentary procedure for the club's officers, or at the district conference.

19—Analyze the psychology of your club's gifts to the community—do they stimulate the initiative of individuals, or do they encourage a paternalistic pattern?

amount equal to the sum by which your benefit was reduced. This, of course, applies only to the veteran with no dependents.

Q—I have had my service-connected compensation reduced from 30 percent to 10 percent. I do not feel that the VA is right in this reduction. I wish to file an appeal. Will you help me?

A—My advice is to be very cautious about filing an appeal—in fact, I would advise against it. An adverse decision from the Board of Veterans Appeals is very difficult to overcome. The percentage of successful appeals is only about 6 to 8 percent.

If you feel that that the VA is in error in reducing your compensation, my suggestion is to secure medical evidence describing in detail the present condition of your disability. Also, employment records would be helpful, if they show absence due to your disability. Statements from neighbors and friends may also be valuable.

Let us gather all the evidence we can, to prove that your disability is not any better, then re-open your claim and have it reviewed.

Only, as a very last resort, is it wise to file an appeal. There is a lot we can do before we must come to that resort.

Q—I have a service-connected disability of diabetes and have been receiving compensation for several years. My condition has become worse, one of my legs is now so gangrenous it must be amputated. Can service-connection and compensation be granted for the amputation?

A—Yes, it seems entirely likely that service-connection can be granted for the amputation. Any condition which is secondary to or caused by a service-connected disability may also be service-connected.

IT'S the LAW

This is the second article of a series prepared by the Pickaway County Bar Association and printed as a public service by The Herald. The articles are not intended to answer individual legal problems, which often involve factors not included in the mythical example.

You Can't Always Collect Damages After a Tumble.

Mrs. Adams was much impressed by the usual spic and span appearance of the Browns' home when she arrived to play bridge. Before the opportunity arose to compliment the hostess on her housekeeping, however, Mrs. Adams stepped on a small throw rug which slipped on the highly polished floor, depositing her beside it with a painful injury.

Mrs. Adams' attitude toward the virtues of a polished floor changed abruptly and she paid her next visit to her lawyer to institute suit against Mrs. Brown.

She was advised that her chances of recovery were slim, as a hostess owes no duty to protect a social guest against such an open and normal risk.

Mrs. Adams was neither pleased or impressed by this statement. She felt that just couldn't be right. She explained the case to her dear friend, Mrs. Carr, who had slipped in the same accidental manner on a highly polished floor in a department store and who had been reimbursed for all her expenses. If the department store had to pay for Mrs. Carr's injuries why shouldn't Mrs. Adams be compensated? After all, she had come to visit at Mrs. Brown's express invitation.

THE LAWYER'S answer went something like this: Courts of Ohio realize that people go on property of others for various purposes and that their entry may arouse various degrees of approval or disapproval in the owner. Therefore, several legal categories have been set up to describe these persons and the rights and duties of both the enterer and owner vary according to the status of such enterer.

First, there are trespassers who enter without permission and to whom no duty or care is owed, except not willfully or wantonly injure them. A wanton injury may arise out of an entire absence of care in the safety of the injured trespasser of his peril when he is discovered in a dangerous position would be considered wanton misconduct.

The next classification, licenses, includes persons who go on the premises of others for their own pleasure or convenience but with the implied or express consent of the owner. Substantially, the same duty of care is owed licensees as trespassers although since the owner may know that the licensee is coming on the property he has greater opportunity to anticipate perils and to guard against them.

Ohio Farm Bureau Program Planned

COLUMBUS — Ohio Farm Bureau county presidents will present a 16-point program, termed "the beginning of Farm Bureau policy development for 1957," to the annual Farm Bureau convention here in November.

Some 55 county presidents attended a meeting here yesterday to outline the program to be considered by the November convention. High on the discussion list was how to improve farm income.

However, there is no obligation to maintain an active vigil to protect such persons except against hidden dangers or obstructions created by the owner.

Firemen and police officers fall into this category, since they are held to enter the premises in the performance of their duty.

The third class is that of social guests, into which Mrs. Adams falls (or slips). The social guest enters the property at the request of the host, but not for his financial benefit. He is assumed to have temporarily the status of a member of the family as regards the security that must be given him.

The host is not liable for personal injuries sustained by ordinary negligence in the care of the home. Of course, care must be taken to warn the guests of any condition in the property of which he is not aware but which is known to the host and which a reasonable person would consider dangerous.

MRS. BROWN'S highly polished floor may not have represented the ultimate in safety but it was not a hidden danger, nor did it demonstrate negligence on Mrs. Brown's part. Polished floors were normal in Mrs. Brown's home just as toys in the back hall or on the stairs may be in other homes, and the guest who is told to consider himself one of the family had better be as nimble as they.

The final category is that of invitee which generally covers business visitors. Mrs. Adams' friend who recovered from her fall was a business visitor. The store manager "invited" her to enter in the hopes that she would purchase something and gave her reason to believe that she would be safe from accidental injury.

The courts have held businesses to a higher standard of care toward their customers, prospective and otherwise, by requiring that they exercise ordinary care to protect such persons against injury while on their premises. This does not mean that stores are insurers against all accidents or injuries but that they must exercise that degree of care that a reasonable and prudent person is accustomed to exercise under the same or similar circumstances.

A slippery floor in the home may not permit a social guest to recover, but in a business establishment the situation may be otherwise. Of course, a somewhat higher standard of care is due business visitors in the home than social guests, although the visitor should realize that the same precautionary measures will not be taken as in a business establishment and therefore must "watch his step" more closely. Mailmen and employees of public utility companies as well as salesmen often fall into the category of business visitors who enter the home.

Veterans who have a question of interest to ex-servicemen should pass it along to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer Jim Shea. His offices are in the basement of the courthouse at Circleville.

Q—I am in need of a hernia operation. I was in the service from 1933 through 1939, and was honorably discharged. Can I go to a VA hospital for this operation?

A—As a peace-time veteran, you can be treated in a VA hospital for a service-connected disability only. There is no way in which we can help you to get into a VA hospital. Had you been in service during war-time, it is possible that the VA would allow you in a hospital for the operation.

Q—I have been admitted to the VA Hospital in Dayton, for domiciliary care. I am receiving a total non-service-connected pension and have no wife or children. Will my monthly check be reduced because of this?

A—If you are under VA domiciliary care for a period in excess of six months, any benefit you receive, if less than $30 a month, continues without reduction. If your benefit is greater than $30 per month, it will be reduced 50 percent of the amount otherwise payable or $30 a month, whichever is greater.

Fiscal 1957 Foreign Aid May Cost Individuals $23.85 Each

Chamber Head For Ohio Lists County Figures

State-Wide Average Estimated At $33.34
By Harry Arnold

Few Pickaway Countians realize how much the proposed foreign aid program for the 1957 fiscal year could cost them individually. According to Harry W. Arnold, president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, the more than $4½ billion program would cost each resident of Pickaway County $23.85. The total cost to all taxpayers in the county would amount to $737,000, Arnold pointed out in a recent report.

The state-wide average for Ohio would be $33.34, Arnold reported, or $133.36 for a family of four persons. Estimated total cost for the state is set at nearly $292½ million, according to Arnold.

Arnold has urged members of the Ohio delegation to Congress, through the Ohio C of C organization, to support a cut of more than $1 billion made by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Arnold pointed out that "even with the reduction, more than $10½ billion is already available in unspent foreign aid funds beginning July 1 for the 1956-57 fiscal year."

OHIO'S ESTIMATED share of foreign aid for fiscal 1957 is one and one-fifth times the total expenditures of 139 Ohio cities in 1954, exclusive of public service enterprises, according to the state C of C group. The organization also pointed out that this amount is sufficient to construct 14,625 classrooms, which could accommodate approximately 438,750 students.

The entire U. S. foreign aid program since its start in 1945 to 1956 has cost taxpayers of the United States more than $51½ billion. This amounts to a cost of $369.23 for every Ohio citizen, or $1,476.92 for a family of four.

Cost to the taxpayers of Pickaway County is estimated by the Ohio Chamber at $8,164,000 or $264.21 for each resident of the county.

By comparison of expenditures within the State, Ohio's estimated share of nearly $3½ billion in total foreign aid expenditures would operate Ohio schools for nearly seven years at the 1954-1955 level of spending. During the 1954-1955 school year, Ohio schools spent $468,227,740 for current operation, interest payments, debt retirement, and miscellaneous.

From another viewpoint, Ohio's share is two and one-fifth times the total taxes collected in Ohio at the State and local levels during the 1954-1955 fiscal year.

If the $1,109,000,000 reduction in the proposed 1957 fiscal year program as slashed by the House Foreign Affairs Committee is retained by Congress, savings to Ohio taxpayers would amount to $6,423,400. Taxpayers of Pickaway County would be saved an estimated $174.97.

DICTATED BY THE DECEASED

Late James Mays Insisted On Getting Credit for His Tombstone's Wording

The Mays tombstone with its odd inscription.

By KENNETH HEWINS
Central Press Association Correspondent

RUSTON, La.—This is likely to come under the heading of graveyard talk.

It's a story about an inscription engraved on a stone slab covering a grave in the cemetery at Vienna, La., a small community about five miles north of Ruston, on U. S. Highway 167. This is the wording on the stone:

"James H. Mays, Born in Lincoln County, Georgia, November 17, 1821. Died in Ruston, Louisiana, August 9, 1911. Born Spiritually October 18, 1839, Under No Eyes Save the Lord's and My Horse's. Joined the Methodist Church on September 1, 1839, and Feel That I Have Been an Unworthy Member Since, But Hope to Join the Redeemed Above in the First Resurrection."

That is not all. Across the bottom of the message, in parentheses, is this credit line:

"(Dictated by the Deceased)."

That is a little unusual, to say the least, I think.

Whether this story ever has been printed in a newspaper before, I honestly do not know. What I do know is this:

For more than a quarter of a century I have been residing within seven miles of the Vienna cemetery and I have just now seen the gravestone with the distinctive inscription. I was escorted to the cemetery by a man who has lived in Ruston for more than 50 years and he had only recently learned of the grave marking.

The grave is near the highway. To reach the spot one needs to take but 30 steps in a left oblique direction from the cemetery gateway.

The visitor will come upon two graves, side by side, each covered

Roundtown Retrospect

By Mac Noggle

Maybe you are like some more of us—your cooking prowess rests with the task of putting on the teakettle for the breakfast coffee. Anyway—don't you like to read about the old-fashioned dishes which were prepared by your folks?

Look over some of these—maybe they'll bring back some happy memories.

Naturally, your most comprehensive recollections have to do with the desserts and some of the nicknacks. In the cake line, those now seldom heard of are—the Buckeye cake, pound cake, delicate cake, social cake, watermelon cake, citron cake, French bunn, Liverpool cake, ambrosia cake, railroad cake, Erie coffee-cake, sponge gingerbread, Geneva's sponge cake, dried apple fruitcake and the old standby—bread cake.

Now in the cookie line—these have disappeared from most of our cookbooks. There were the sand tarts, ginger-nuts, German crack-cakes, Aunt Betsy's cookies, Canada cookies, Savoy cakes, Shrewsbury cakes, Queen doughnuts, chocolate jumbles, Madeleines and caraway cookies.

BESIDES the many kinds of fruit pies like we have today, in those days they also had hasty pumpkin pie, mock apple, apple Jonathon, Irish potato pie and mock mince pies. Believe it or not, many kinds of pies were once fried in deep fat at 350 to 375 degrees.

You ask—how could grandma know when her grease was the proper temperature, without a thermometer? That was easy for her—she dropped a one-inch cube of bread into the hot grease and if it browned in one minute, the temperature was just right.

There were many kinds of puddings, such as apple pan dowdy, Troy pudding, poverty pudding, Fuller pudding, Dorrit pudding, baked or boiled Indian pudding—both of these were made of cornmeal, Florentine pudding, valise pudding—a fold-over job, wapsie pudding, sponge pudding, seven-cent pudding, Eve's pudding—made with apples and wine, and Topsy Charlotte—a preparation, loaded with Sherry wine.

Then too, there were many kinds of custards and creams like Float, apple coddle, apple omelet, Indian custard, wine cream and the Russian and the Spanish creams.

Besides all the jellies and jams, we find that they made ketchup—

time in the kitchen, fooling around with some new-fangled messes to try out on him. He wasn't too happy about it, so he prefixed the name "Anna-dam-er" to one of her creations.

Of the thousands of old-time recipes one can find, we believe the most famous one and certainly unique, is that of the "Bible Cake." Yes—your Bible must be your cook-book. What it will do for you to try out the recipe can be found in the 23d. Verse of the 14th. Chapter of Proverbs and as to what it tastes like can be found in the 9th. Verse of the 9th. Chapter of 2d. Chronicles.

Now you are ready for the ingredients. Use 1½ cups of Judges 5th. Chapter and the 25th. Verse; add 2 cups of the 6th. Chapter, 20th. Verse of Jeremiah; then 4½ cups of the 22d. Verse of the 4th. Chapter of Kings I; 2 cups of 1st. Samuel, 12th. Verse of the 30th. Chapter; 2 cups of the 12th. Verse of the 3d. Chapter of Nahum; 1 cup of Numbers, 8th. Verse, of the 17th. Chapter; ½ cup of Judges, 19th. Verse of the 4th. Chapter; add 2 teas-½ cup of Judges, 19th. Verse of the 14th. Chapter of 1st. Samuel; then 2 teaspoons of Amos. 5th. Verse of the 4th. Chapter; add 6 teaspoons of Jeremiah, 17th. Chapter, 11th. Verse and finally, just a pinch of the 13th. Verse of the 2d. Chapter of Leviticus.

No—we're not going to give the least inkling what kind of cake it is—it will do anyone good to do their own translating—even if you don't bake a cake.

Judge Sympathizes With Man Trying To Help Out Kids

AKRON (P)—For giving free haircuts to kids a 50-year-old furniture upholsterer paid a $10 fine here.

But in handing out the penalty Municipal Judge William H. Victor sympathized with the upholsterer and registered a mild complaint against Akron's $1.75 rate for a legal clip.

The upholsterer Raymond D. Paxton had been cutting the hair of scores of neighborhood children free in a makeshift chair in the basement of his rooming house.

Judge Victor said he too "considered buying a pair of clippers when the price of a haircut went up to $1.75 but I decided against it." He added:

Dual Mosquito League Playoffs To Be Staged Monday, Tuesday

Dual playoffs in the Mosquito League will be staged next week as the first round closed with a pair of ties.

Purina and DuPont each had 2-1 marks, while Eshelman's and Chamber of Commerce posted 1-2 records. The two top teams will play off on Monday, with the other game set for Tuesday.

The two leaders in the other two leagues both have spotless records. Kiwanis tops the Little League standings with a 3-0 mark.

Country Club Pool Will Open July 4

The new swimming pool at the Pickaway Country Club will definitely be open by July 4, according to L. M. Wuest, president of the club.

Due to bad weather, contractors were unable to finish their work by the original completion date of June 20, Wuest explained in a letter to all club members.

New pool hours have also been disclosed meaning a slight difference from an original announcement. The pool will be open to members and their guests from noon until 8:30 p. m. every day except Monday, when the pool will be closed all day.

Indians Clobbered By Chicago's Sox

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Indians fell off their nine game winning streak with a thud here last night.

After taking the opener of a two-night doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox 5-2 on Herb Score's three-hit pitching, the Indians got clobbered 13-2 in the nightcap.

It was the worst beating of the year for the Indians. The White Sox pounded Bob Lemon, Bud Daley and Cal McLish for 16 hits. Billy Pierce held the Indians to four hits and fanned 10 in becoming the first major league pitcher to win 12 games this season.

Louise Suggs Leads Women's Tourney

DES MOINES — Louise Suggs, still getting excellent mileage from her putter, led by three strokes as the Women's Western Open Golf Championship moved into the third round today.

Gunning for her fifth open championship, Louise had 31 other contestants, including 18 professionals and 13 amateurs, to outdistance in the final two rounds today and Sunday. They were the qualifiers for the championship flight at the end of a windy, humid Friday during which only six players were able to crack 80 over the rugged Wakonda Club course.

Bahama Collects Unanimous Nod

NEW YORK — Yama Bahama, a heavy welter who has been mixing with middleweights, would like to dip back to his own weight level for a match with Carmen Basilio, Tony DeMarco, Chico Vejar or Art Aragon after winning his 23rd straight.

Bahama, a speedy boxer from the Isle of Bimini in the Bahamas, sid past experienced Gil Turner of Philadelphia last night to win a unanimous decision in 10 rounds at Madison Square Garden.

Bahama won the votes of both judges, Nick Gamboli and Joe Epply 7-2-1 and referee Barney Felix 5-4-1.

First Seven-Foot High Jump Sparkles Olympic Tryouts

LOS ANGELES — Two world records, one of them the first 7-foot high jump in history, point up today the predictions that Uncle Sam's Olympic track and field team will be the strongest ever.

Eight events were held in final Olympic trials at the Coliseum Friday night and only one failed to produce a record of one type or another. More are expected in today's final nine.

Charley Dumas, a 19-year-old from California's Compton Junior College, produced the greatest thrill when he cleared 7 feet 3/4 inch in the high jump.

The 7-foot barrier long had been compared with the previously reached goals of 4 minutes for the mile run and 60 feet for the shot put. It was the last to fall.

Dumas' leap goes into the record as 7 feet 1/2 inch because of the world record ruling that heights should be measured to the nearest quarter of an inch.

Ohio State sophomore Glenn Davis smashed the Russian-held record in the 400-meter hurdles when he sped the barriers in 49.5 seconds. The accepted world mark of 50.4 is held by Yuriy Lituyev, University of Texas freshman Eddie Southern, finishing second, also came under the world mark with a time of 49.7 and third place Josh Culbreath of the Marines equaled it.

Ablene Christian won the 100-meters dash in 10.3 seconds but in the preliminaries he and two oth-

Professionals Due For $5 Assessment

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. — An assessment of $5 will be made against all pros and amateurs competing in each PGA-sponsored golf tournament until a fund of $21,000 is raised, it was decided at a meeting of the professional golfers last night.

Pro Bob Toski of Holyoke, Mass., one of the co-chairmen of the players tournament committee, said the assessment would be made in place of the previous motion of a three per cent cut from all prize money. This money is to pay the salary and expenses of proposed tournament manager, Edwin C. Carter of San Anselmo, Calif.

Texas, Ohioan Vie In College Golf Duel

COLUMBUS — The tourney medalist and a hometown favorite met today for the National Intercollegiate Golf Championship.

Battling were Rex Baxter Jr. of Houston University, who led the 36-hole qualifier by six strokes, and Rick Jones of Ohio State.

Baxter, native of Amarillo, Tex., in 82 match play holes, has scored 12 birdies, 12 bogies, one double bogey and 57 pars. Jones, from Youngstown, had to go 19 and 20 holes to oust two foes yesterday. He has 63 pars, 13 bogies and 8 birdies.

Jimmy Thistle Wins Feature Pace

COLUMBUS — Three spills, five photo finishes and three dead heats, plus the victory of Jimmy Thistle in the feature fifth and eighth divided 20 Class Pace for $2,000 highlighted last night's program at Hilliards Raceway.

Thistle finished in a dead heat with Phyllis Ann in the fifth, and was second back of Hoots Dream in the eighth but was awarded the trophy for standing best in the summaries. He is owned by Ed Loar of Plain City.

Finsterwald Tied For 7th In Meet

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. — Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, fired a 64 (low score for the day) and wound up in an eight-way tie for seventh place at the end of the second round of the Insurance City Open golf tourney at Wethersfield Country Club yesterday.

Finsterwald's sizzling round gave him a total of 138 at the halfway mark of the tournament. Leading were Ed (Porky) Oliver and Arnold Palmer, tied at 135.
